Ready To 'Howl Them Out'

Set for the big "Save Baseball" radio broadcast at 9.05 tonight are sportscaster Bill Stephenson, fans Russell Ker and H. W. Davey and CKDA's Ed Farey. Broadcast will try to boost fund to a new high. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

Baseball Fund Near $9,000 Mark; Radio Jamboree On CKDA Tonight

By BILL WALKER
Times Sports Editor

Incomplete returns from canvassers of business firms and a fairly accurate estimate from Atheletic Booster Club headquarters show the total of the "save baseball" fund to be at or near $9,000 today.

This total is expected to be augmented following a complete report of all canvassers tonight, plus returns from other booster club booths in the city.

However, the big push to reach at least $20,000—the over-all objective being $35,000—is expected to come tonight.

On radio station CKDA starting at 9.05 a monster jamboree in aid of the drive is planned.

Leaders from sport and industry have been invited to help put the show over and with it the baseball drive.

General manager Bob Brown of the Vancouver Capilanos, recently honored for 50 years' service in baseball, is making a special trip from Vancauver to appear on the program.

Other luminaries invited are Stuart Keate, publisher of the Times, which is aiding in the program; Herb Davey, K.C., Memorial Arena commissioner; Barney Olson, long-time friend of sport and Memorial Arena commissioner; Russell Ker, Rev. "Bill" Hills, Logan Mayhew and Bill Heaney, sponsors of juvenile sport.

Then, as an added touch, there will be none other than Rebel Mowatt, who needs no introduction to sport fans. Rebel's money-raising feats in all types of endeavor are history.

ANYTHING GOES

Radio station CKDA is turning over its facilities for the evening and the show is expected to last until at least the objective is in sight or an indication given that pro baseball is here to stay.

Ed. Farey, who has done a lot in recent nights on his "Spinner Sanctum" program to assist in the current drive, will emcee the festivities.

And, as a final warning—everyone is advised to tune into the show because anything's liable to happen.

"Howlin' em out" is the title of a popular money-raising project in Seattle and this could be a duplicate performance and probably will be if pro baseball is to survive.

Pledges for donations or shares in the fund will be requested and accepted at CKDA.

And in order that such contributions may be picked as they are received, the Athletic Booster Club is providing cars, equipped with radio, to speed to donors' homes in the various districts in and around the city.

The show starts at 9.05. It should be interesting.

Pilot Lives After Crash

FALLON, Nev., Jan. 31 (AP)—Lieut. William A. Poe, a marine fighter pilot, survived a crash that broke his Corsair in two on 11,429-foot Sonora Peak.

Poe was rescued uninjured from his snowy precipice in the high Sierra of Alipine Conuty, California, yesterday after a 28-hour wait. Twelve rescuers laboriously snow-shoed 10 miles from the marine's Pickle Meadow winter training base to reach him.

Snow-Covered Grain Figured

286,600,000 Bushels Of Prairie Wheat, Oats, Barley, Flaxseed, Remain To Be Harvested

OTTAWA, Jan. 31 (CP)—A total of 286,600,000 bushels of prairie wheat, oats, barley and flaxseed remained to be harvested on Dec. 31 last, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

This was the first bureau indication of the amount of western grain buried under snow and awaiting mild spring weather before it can be gathered and prepared for market. The estimate was prepared by the bureau in co-operation with provincial agriculture departments.

Of the total, the bureau estimated 150,000,000 bushels were wheat; 134,600,000 bushels of oats and barley, and 1,600,000 bushels of flaxseed.

"Expressed as a proportion of the total crop as estimated last November," said the bureau, "approximately 28 per cent of the wheat, 24 per cent of the oats and barley and 18 per cent of the flaxseed were still in the fields at the end of December."

CANADIAN CROP

Last fall the bureau estimated that the prairies would produce 551,000,000 bushels of wheat; 323,000,000 bushels of oats; 238,000,000 bushels of barley, and 8,400,000 bushels of flaxseed.

Total crop production for all Canada was estimated at: Wheat, 562,000,000 bushels, oats, 493,000,000; barley, 253,000,000; flaxseed, 9,200,000.

This is the first survey of its kind in recent years, and therefore no comparison could be obtained with the amount of grain still left on the fields during the winter months last year. But officials said the amount was small, perhaps no more than about 5 or 10 per cent of the total crop.

Some western farmers have expressed the fear that the extensive harvesting still to be done may tax the number of dryers available and cause great loss through spoilage.

I.W.A. Blast Immigration Policies

VANCOUVER, Jan. 31 (CP)—The International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) Wednesday charged that the Federal Government is pursuing a "reckless" policy of immigration which is swelling the ranks of the unemployed.

The 150 delegates to the union's 15th annual convention demanded that the Federal Government:

Establish a planned immigration policy in co-operation with the National Employment Service;

Control immigration to prevent private employers from importing workers;

And force immigration authorities and officials of N.E.S. to work with labor unions to overcome hardships suffered by immigrants and Canadian workers.

The present governmental policies are threatening the living standard of Canadian workers, creating serious unemployment, and worsening the housing shortage, the I.W.A. declared in a resolution.

CITY FINES SET RECORD AT $67,707

Over 58 Per Cent Higher Than 1950

By ROY THORSEN

City police court fines rose to an all-time high in 1951 . . . 58 per cent above the year previous.

Total was $67,707; a bulky $24,757 in excess of the 1950 figure, Chief of Police John Blackstock's annual report to the Police Commission revealed today.

The chief's statistical report shows that of the fines of 16,898 persons, many of these being repeaters for parking offenses.

Erring drivers contributed the bulk of the fines. The report shows that 1,421 motorists paid a total of $24,650 for Motor Vehicle Act infractions.

PARKING ADDED UP

A total of 8,786 motorists (including repeaters) paid $1 apiece for violating parking meter regulations. For parking in prohibited areas 2,552 drivers paid $2.50 fines. Hundreds more paid fines for other parking infractions.

For being intoxicated in a public place last year 535 persons contributed $4,385 in fines to city coffers.

Twenty-one persons were fined $3,050 for driving cars while their ability was impaired by alcohol.

Motorists brought to court for dangerous driving, a Criminal Code charge, numbered 26. Their fine total was $1,355.

The chief's report showed that only 8,972 persons (or cases) were dealt with in 1950. Their fine total amounted to $42,949, or a record up to that time.

Report Syrian Leader Slain

CAIRO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Cairo newspapers published today unconfirmed reports of an outbreak of violence in Syria and the assassination of Nazam Bey Koudsi, former Syrian premier. There was no confirmation of the report from Syrian sources.

Loudsi, leader of the Populist Party, was premier from June, 1950, until last March, when he resigned without explanation. He was asked to form a government several times but refused.

He was jailed last November when Col. Adib Shishekly, Syria's strong man, set up a virtual military dictatorship after an army coup.

23 Craft Searching Gulf For Small Plane

An R.C.A.F. helicopter was scheduled to make a flight this afternoon at low tide to investigate an oil slick at the mouth of the Fraser River—only clue to the fate of an aircraft and two flyers missing from Sea Island Airport since 5 Wednesday evening.

The high-speed launch Huron of 122 Marine Squadron, Patricia Bay, was standing by the oil slick, sighted in the morning by searching R.C.A.F. aircraft.

Because of shoal water surrounding the oil sign, just one and one-half miles offshore from Westham Island, and only eight miles from the airport, the Huron could not go to the source of the oil.

Meanwhile, 23 U.S. and Canadian aircraft were continuing their search over Georgia Strait.

The plane, a DeHavilland Chipmunk, operated by the Aero Club of B.C., Vancouver, carried club instructor Harry W. O'Reilly, 33, an R.C.A.F. veteran, and Flt. Lt. Jack Welch, West Vancouver.

The flight was to have taken O'Reilly and Welch non-stop from Sea Island to Patricia Bay, Port Angeles, Seattle, Everett and Bellingham, and back to Sea Island.

They never checked in over Patricia Bay, and it is feared they were lost shortly after leaving their home base.

Although the plane, a small low-winged all-metal monoplane with fixed landing gear and 140-horsepower Gypsy Major motor, carried no emergency gear, Aero Club officials had full confidence in the two flyers.

"They have flown this course hundreds of times," one official said. "They would know exactly where they were at all times, and how best to reach safety if they managed to reach land after an accident."

The exercise was briefed for an altitude of 8,000 feet.

VISIBILITY GOOD

Victoria weatherman William Mackie said that at the scheduled time of the flight Wednesday, visibility was 30 miles, and skies remained clear until after midnight.

Search forces from Patricia Bay included two Canso aircraft from the R.C.A.F. flying boat school, piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. Bud Hamilton and Flight-Lieut. Bill Becker, and the search and rescue launches Huron and Malecite.

All four started a search at dawn. After two hours the aircraft were forced back because of poor visibility and a ceiling of 200 feet.

"We could not have seen the missing plane directly beneath us," Hamilton said on his return.

The Malecite continued to patrol the Gulf Islands while her sister ship stood by at the oil slick.

Toll Now 8

VALLEYFIELD, Que., Jan. 31 (CP). — Marie-Giselle Tetrault died in hospital last night, the eighth victim of an early-morning blaze that claimed the lives of her mother and six of her brothers and sisters.

Bar Robeson's Entrance For Vancouver Address

BLAINE, Wash., Jan. 31 (UP)—U.S. immigration officers refused to let left wing Negro singer Paul Robeson and Attorney Vincent William Hallinan cross the border into Canada today.

District Immigration Director John P. Boyd would make no comment on the action except to say it was taken "in the best interests of the United States."

Robeson arrived here by automobile and was informed by written notice at 1.15 p.m. that he could not leave the United States. Hallinan, who was Harry Bridges' attorney during the longshore leader's perjury trial, was taken off a Great Northern passenger train at 11.35 a.m. and also given written notice.

Both Robeson and Hallinan were en route to Vancouver, B.C., where they were scheduled to speak Friday at a convention of British Columbia members of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union (Ind.).

Two border guards removed Hallinan from the train while guards at the U.S. immigration highway checking station stopped Robeson.

Both were told that if they tried to leave the United States they would be subject to prosecution under criminal provisions of the law which provide for a maximum fine and jail sentence of $5,000 and five years in the federal penitentiary.

Boyd said that under immigration laws either a citizen or an alien can be prevented from leaving the United States. Both Robeson and Hallinan are citizens of the United States.

R.C.M.P. LIST PUBLIC ENEMIES

Toronto Gunman Heads Roll Of 10 'Most-Wanted' Canadian Badmen

OTTAWA, Jan. 31 (CP) — The R.C.M.P. today put Donald (Mickey) McDonald, Toronto gunman, at the head of a crime roll of their 10 "most-wanted" lawbreakers.

The 44-year-old former Toronto salesman, believed to have fled to the United States after breaking out of Kingston penitentiary in 1947, tops a list of men wanted for murder, forgery, narcotics charges, bank robbery, swindling and criminal insanity.

The list, Canada's first announced roll of public enemies, was prepared by the R.C.M.P. at the request of newspaper men. It gives the wanted men in the chronological order of their alleged offenses.

Besides McDonald—wanted for bank robbery in Windsor as well as the prison break—the criminals are given as:

Walter Pavlukoff, 38, Vancouver laborer, wanted for the killing of bank manager Sidney Petrie in a holdup at a Vancouver branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Aug. 25, 1947;

Hugh Kennedy, alias McIntosh, 34, of Winnipeg and Toronto, wanted by Toronto police for escaping custody while on the way to Kingston penitentiary Nov. 27, 1948, to serve eight years for forgery;

Donald Winslow Henderson, 35, university graduate and bush-cutting contractor of Calgary, wanted by Calgary police for the murder of Yvonne Levesque Aug. 11, 1949;

Michel Sisco, alias Antoine D'Agostino, 44, restaurant owner in Montreal, wanted on narcotics charges since Feb. 1, 1950. A native of France, he was convicted at Touloue in 1948 for treason and sentenced to death in absentia;

Melville Wilkie, 41, laborer of Shallow Lake, Ont., who set a fire in his house that burned his wife and child to death in Owen Sound, Ont., in 1933. He escaped from the Ontario hospital for the criminally insane at Penetanguishene, Ont., on July 14, 1950;

John Mallock, 36, Winnipeg salesman, wanted in Vancouver for selling narcotics.

George Michael Mallock, 37, Winnipeg carpenter, brother of John, wanted on the same charges as John. Both failed to appear for trial in January, 1951;

William Patrick Ryan, 62, of England and New Zealand, described as an international swindler. He is wanted by Vancouver and Toronto police for horse-race betting swindles. He is accused of fraudulently obtaining $5,000 at Toronto last April 4 and $10,500 at Vancouver last Oct. 11;

Edwin Alonzo Boyd, 37, Toronto laborer, wanted by Toronto city police for bank robbery and escaping from Toronto jail Nov. 4, 1951.

The man at the head of the list—McDonald—cut a wide crime swath through eastern Canada a few years ago with two companions, Nick Minnelli and Ulysses Lauzon. McDonald is the only one of the trio still unaccounted for.

Lauzon was found shot to death in the southeastern United States, and Minnelli was picked up in Los Angeles.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

THE WANE OF WALKING

LAST SUNDAY was one of those "frabjous days"—as Lewis Carroll would say—when the warmth of the air and the brightness of the sun belies the calendar. So we went for a walk in the early afternoon, and our route took us down to Shoal Bay and along the Oak Bay waterfront.

The sea was so placid that it was hard to believe it was the same sea which had "acted up" so badly at intervals during the winter. It gently nudged the shingly beach and kissed the rocky shore as if it, too, was convinced that Spring, the time of wooing, was here already. The mountains across the Straits stood out clearly in the sunshine, and the sight of several families sitting on logs on the beach served to complete the illusion that Spring had wandered in from around the corner.

IN A TEARING HURRY

IN THE course of our saunter of several miles, we noticed how few others were out walking for walking's sake. Cars, usually filled with passengers, dashed past us in a ceaseless stream, most of them at a rate which suggested that, Sunday or no Sunday, speed was still of the essence, even in so-called leisure hours.

The majority of them whizzed past at a pace which also implied that the mere contemplation of the passing scenery and the distant vista on that heavenly day was something quite out of their ken. Some of them probably never gave a glance out of the windows. They were so engrossed with getting somewhere—or nowhere—in the shortest possible time that the thought that they might be missing something of beauty would possibly never occur to them.

SIMPLE PLEASURES

BUT AS WE walked I mused regretfully that so few people take strolls any more—or even walk when they can avoid it. It is a grievous thing that this, like so many other simple pleasures of the past, has succumbed to the rush and hurry of the times.

Once upon a time, it was a common sight to see whole families out for a stroll, especially on a Sunday afternoon, when it was as much a part of the Sabbath procedure as going to church and eating a big mid-day meal. But nobody does it any more. They seem to prefer the mid-streams of traffic that surge out of the main roads in all directions, turning the Sunday afternoon drive—or walk—into a nightmare.

RADIO AND COMICS

OR THEY stay at home to listen to the blare of the ubiquitous radio, or else to devour the "funnies" and the comic strips, or even to dazzle their eyes with TV.

It's just another reminder that people don't like to walk any more. It's symptomatic of this age of hurry and bustle, that in the recent Toronto street car and bus strike, people "thumbed" rides even to go just for a couple of blocks. Some of the automobile owners who stopped to pick up these hitch-hikers were incensed at teen-agers who rode only a block before getting out again.

SHANK'S PONY

NO, "Shank's Pony" has been left far behind, out-dated and out-paced by the more modern horsepower. It's getting so that when you are out walking for the sake of walking and you see someone else doing it, you instinctively look around for the "pooch"—for owners of dogs are becoming the last of the strollers.

Not that I have anything against automobiles—no one finds them more useful than I, and would be more lost without one. But it does seem a pity that something cannot be done to revive the art of walking for walking's sake—not only for health reasons, for the sake of keeping down the "spare tire" a-midriffs, and for the sake of all the beauty that awaits those who "only stand and stare," but because, if we don't, some day in the not too distant future we are going to wake up and find a new generation born with castors or wheels instead of feet.

Extinction Of Canada's Dairy Industry Threat

(Special to the Times)

NANAIMO, Jan. 31—The margarine "bogey" was under close review in the closing session Wednesday of the annual two-day convention of the B.C. Dairymen's Association.

The association will appoint a committee to investigate and keep a watch on margarine and dairy substitute developments. John Oliver, East Saanich, suggested further that all members make their legislative representatives aware of the situation.

Chief speaker of the day, J. S. Turnbull, president of the National Dairy Council of Canada, warned that milk and dairy products may eventually disappear from the Canadian table.

The threat of replacement of butterfat by vegetable oils extends to every product in the industry, he said, adding that butter production has declined seriously since introduction of margarine.

It is made from vegetable oils imported duty-free from the United States and Orient, he said, claiming there is little chance of the Canadian farmer providing these substitutes as an alternate source of income.

"There are indications that powerful vegetable oil interests are anxious to replace Canada-produced butterfat by utilizing cheap oils in other imitation products," he said, "and such an imminent development threatens the near extinction of Canadian dairying."

Resolutions passed will ask the government to increase maintenance and improvements on secondary roads, exempt irrigation equipment and oil and grease from sales tax, appoint a producers' representative to the B.C. Milk Board, and remove school taxes from land.

Leonard Zink, Sardis, was elected president; S. E. Halksworth, Grindrod, vice-president; and Everard Clarke, Vernon, secretary-treasurer. Henry G. Robinson, Royal Oak, was named director of the Vancouver Island and Gulf Island district.

Assessment List In Court Monday

The city's assessment appeal list has closed with a roster of 45 cases to go before the court of revision Monday.

The 45 appeals concern 50 properties with a total assessment value on the land of $84,000 and on improvements, $127,000.

Court of revision on assessments under Local Improvement will sit again Feb. 11. There were 22 in all, with 14 confirmed and eight more adjourned until Feb. 11.

To Increase Size Of Grid League

VANCOUVER, Jan. 31 (CP)—Directors of the Big Four Junior Football League Wednesday night voted to increase the league from three to six teams.

North Shore Lions, Meralomas and Blue Bombers currently hold franchises.

A motion was passed requesting the Western Interprovincial Football Union to make arrangements to protect Vancouver juniors for future use by a Vancouver senior team.

Allies Propose New Peace Tack

Want Final Clauses Of Armistice Agreement Including Withdrawal Of Troops Discussed

MUNSAN, Korea, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Allies today proposed that truce negotiators tackle yet another problem—the final clause of a Korean armistice.

This is recommendations to belligerent governments, including ultimate withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea. The Communists have been wanting to talk about it since the truce negotiations began.

If the Reds accept, it would mean every key armistice problem would be under discussion simultaneously in a three-tent performance.

Negotiators have been deadlocked for weeks on agenda items three and four, supervision of a truce and exchange of prisoners. But Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate, suggested simultaneous negotiations on item five in an effort to speed the signing of a truce.

PUT INTO AGENDA

The recommendations section was included in the conference agenda to meet a Communist demand for withdrawing foreign troops from Korea. The United Nations refused to consider troop withdrawal as part of an armistice, but finally agreed to consider such a recommendation to governments involved in the Korea war. The question then would be settled on a higher, political level.

In a letter to North Korean Gen. Nam Il, Joy suggested that if the Reds are willing to start talking about item five now, they draw up a detailed working draft for the sub-committee to use as a basis of discussion.

The truce supervision sub-committee is in recess while staff officers try to hammer out an agreement on all points except the hotly-contested U.N. proposal for banning airfield construction during an armistice.

The officers spent most of Thursday's session studying the Allied proposal for organization and operation of the military armistice commission.

Mossadegh Will Plead Iran's Case

TEHRAN, Iran, Jan. 31 (Reuters)—Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh will appear personally before the Hague International Court to put Iran's viewpoint on oil, a government spokesman told reporters today.

This was in spite of the fact that Iran does not recognize the court's competence to deal with the British complaint over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, the spokesman, David Boushiri, added.

Iran would refuse to nominate a judge, he said.

The court takes up the British complaint in the second week of February.

CLOSE CENTRES

A United States Embassy spokesman meanwhile said Iran has ordered immediate shutdown of all American state department information and education centres here except the one in Tehran.

The order also applied to British and Russian cultural centres outside the capital, it was reported.

Drafting of the closure order was reported unofficially Wednesday.

The Iranian action was based on a 1949 decree permitting foreign cultural activities only in Tehran. The decree had not been enforced.

A month ago, Moslem leader Ayatullah Kashani, whose word often has great weight with the government, "suggested" enforcement of the decree in a note to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. Mossadegh's nationalists have been demanding that he close down British and other foreign cultural centres, alleging they are "espionage nests."

Jack Fawcett Wins Movie Club Award

The Order of Merit Cup was awarded to Jack Fawcett Tuesday at the annual banquet of the Victoria Amateur Movie Club.

It is presented annually by Hirst and Flintoff for the club member earning the largest point total for activities during the year.

Other awards went to Edwin Foulds, for the best film of the year; F. E. Artlett, best 16mm. movie; A. R. Turner, best 8mm. movie; R. A. Wood, best color slides and best outing film made during the year, and Mrs. Olive Clear, for a set of slides on British Columbia's Interior which won her the president's prize.

Officers elected and installed for 1952 were F. E. Arlett, president; Edwin Foulds, vice-president; R. A. Wood, secretary; Arthur Kinnis, treasurer; A. R. Turner, R. Hale and William Green, directors, and H. Savage, auditor.

West German Police Raid Red Centres

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP)—West German police began nation-wide raids this morning on party headquarters of Communists and the Nazi-type Socialist Reich party.

Frankfurt police said the action was ordered to begin simultaneously at 6 a.m. (midnight EST.) in all west German cities. It was ordered by the west German constitutional court to gather evidence against the two organizations.

The federal government at Bonn has asked the court to ban both parties as unconstitutional.

There were no immediate reports of incidents.

Police said they were instructed to confiscate all "material giving evidence of hostile activities of the two parties which can be used in the trial."

Homes of leading officials in the Communist and Socialist Reich (S.P.R.) parties also were searched.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government has asked the court to ban the two parties under a West German constitution provision prohibiting parties seeking "to impair or abolish the libertarian democratic basic order or to jeopardize the existence of the federal republic of Germany."

The government charges that the Communist Party is trying to undermine the West German state on orders from the Kremlin. The S.P.R., which is propagating Nazi ideals, has made startling gains in two state elections in the past year.

Vets' Pensions Limits Draw Sharp Criticisms

There were bitter complaints from the families of veterans Wednesday when they discovered pensions' cheques had been reduced, following the award of old-age pensions to married couples.

One woman telephoned the Times to say: "Father has been getting pension totalling $89.83. This month, mother became eligible for old-age pension of $40 a month. And father's pension has been cut to $51.66. Because the most they can draw between them is $91.66.

"Is this fair?" she asked; and herself answered: "I think it's shameful."

D.V.A. officials explained the situation.

War veterans who have been drawing allowances from Department of Veterans' Affairs, and who are now to receive the old-age pensions paid to all residents over 70 years old, now fall into two classifications:

Those drawing disability allowances will continue to receive their full disability cheques, plus their old age pension cheques.

Those drawing War Veteran's allowances under the 1948 act will have their veteran's allowances reduced so that their total income does not exceed $91.66 per month—the maximum allowed under the act.

NOT ENTITLED

As the act was first written, veterans were not permitted to benefit from old age pensions and veterans' allowances at the same time.

This was amended on passage of the Old Age Security Act, to allow D.V.A. officials to treat the old age pensions as income.

The maximum amount which can be paid as veteran's allowance, for which veterans over 60 are eligible, is $70.83 per month, to a married man.

If this man is now over 70, and he is to receive $40 a month old age pensions, the D.V.A. lowers the allowance to $51.66.

The overall effect, however, is an increase in total pension, from $70.83 to $91.66 per month.

In the event that either wife or husband, or both, receives the old-age pension, their joint income is taken into consideration in adjusting the veterans' allowance.

Veterans receiving disability pensions may receive any amount of outside income, including other pensions, without affecting their war-wound pension.

TAFT-LEWIS BATTLE, GRIN, SHAKE HANDS

Senate Committee Probe Into Mine Safety Regulations Produces Verbal Outburst

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—John L. Lewis and Sen. Robert Taft (Rep., O.) roared at each other face to face before a Senate committee Wednesday in a long clash over the Taft-Hartley Act's bearing on mine safety.

At times the exchange turned into a verbal slugging match with the contenders red-faced in their shouting efforts. But when it was over they grinned and shook hands.

It all stemmed from Lewis' testimony Tuesday to the special Senate group studying proposals to tighten safety laws. The core of the union leader's statement was that "Bob Taft's safe statute" prevents miners from forcing closure of unsafe diggings. Lewis said the statute opens the way for suits by mine owners if the men quit shafts over management's objections.

The Senator set off Wednesday's renewal of the long feud with answering testimony that Lewis' complaint was a "red herring," irrelevant to the subject before the committee, and "untrue" besides.

Lewis cited the situation at the Brackwood Fuel Company mine in Virginia. He said the company refused to close down the mine when a man finally was killed because of conditions about which a safety committee complained, the men were "scared to death" and finally quit work. Now, he said, a $750,000 breach-of-contract suit under the Taft-Hartley law is pending.

THUNDERS

Lewis' voice was thundering by the time he got to his conclusion: "The point of all this is that, regardless of what lawyers like Mr. Taft say, the operators don't close their mines when the union finds them to be unsafe.

"And the union is open to lawsuits when the men refuse to work in dangerous mines. This proves it."

Taft at one point already had commented that mine management would not have "the chance of a snowball in hell" to maintain a suit over a walkout from an unsafe mine.

He cut in on Lewis with the comment that what he apparently wants is full immunity for the union even from being sued. And he quoted one of his Harvard law instructions as having told him "you can sue the Bishop of Boston for bastardy," but it is another thing to prove the charge and collect.

Rugby Union Pays City Compliment On Park Grounds

Condition of the field at Macdonald Park has drawn praise for the city parks department from Victoria Rugby Union.

A number of laudatory letters have been received.

C. Blyth, secretary of the union, said both players and spectators who had played or watched rugby matches both in England and Australia have been complimentary.

Warren wrote in reply: "Compliments are about as rare in our rank as manna from heaven, so your letter of Jan. 24 re Macdonald Park is received with particular pleasure by our maintenance staff."

$114,000 Gem Theft From N.Y. Apartment

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP).—Jewel robbers struck the swank East Side again Wednesday, as a three-man team looted fashion designer Mollie Parnis' Park Avenue apartment of $114,000 in jewels.

It was the second $100,000 jewelry robbery on the East Side in 48 hours, and brought to $600,000 the amount of valuables taken from hotels and apartments during the last year.

Monday a lone bandit took $100,000 in gems from Mrs. Scott Scammell in her spacious Fifth Avenue apartment.

McCarthy Flayed By President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—President Truman today denounced Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep., Wis.), as pathological and as a character assassin.

The President let go at the Wisconsin Senator at a press conference in response to questions about McCarthy's Senate speech earlier this week on Philleo Nash, special White House assistant who once lectured at the University of Toronto.

McCarthy said Nash, concerned with minority problems, had close associations with Communists in the 1940's. Nash denied it.

Snapping back, the President referred to the Wisconsin senator as the pathological Mr. McCarthy.

He said the attack on Nash was the same kind of attack McCarthy has made on all government workers he does not like.

A reporter recalled McCarthy said Federal Bureau of Investigation reports linked Nash with Communist associates and asked the President if the F.B.I. did have such reports.

Truman said McCarthy did not need information to be a character assassin. That was his business, he added.

And, with an edge in his voice, the President said he himself was not talking with immunity.

McCarthy, as a senator, is immune from lawsuits growing out of his remarks on the Senate floor.

Moppets Are Feeling Punk At Punkeydoodles Corner

PUNKEYDOODLES CORNERS, Ont., Jan. 31 (CP)—Most school children are feeling punk at Punkeydoodles Corners. More than 15 have the mumps and teacher Delford Zehr's classes are curtailed.

Marietta Roth, 12, on the sick list, said today about 28 of the 52 pupils who come from surrounding farms, were away from school earlier this week but some have returned.

Punkeydoodles Corners is three miles southwest of New Hamburg which is about 15 miles west of Kitchener.

A standing argument for years in the district is the county in which the village is located. A resident can stand on the site of the hamlet's main industry and throw stones into Perth, Oxford and Waterloo counties.

The main industry is closed for the winter. It's a century-old pump used for watering cattle in summer.

ALL THAT REMAINS

The pump is all that remains at "The Corners" of what was once a thriving crossroads village with several horse-and-buggy days industries.

Punkeydoodles Corners today has six residents. The "Mayor" is Titus Rith, a trucker. His address is R.R. 1, New Hamburg. But his is the only house near the original clearing created by one John Burbrigg, a pumpkin grower.

It is said that one day a neighbor became irritated with old John and stormed at him in Pennsylvania Dutch:

"Oh, you old Punkeydoodle, you!"

The name stuck with him and consequently was transferred to his corner.

The maps show The Corners to be located in Waterloo County.

The Figures And The Myth

WHEN MR. JOHN DIEFENBAKER and other Conservative statesmen denounce the Canadian government's revenue surplus as a device to "over-tax" the people they are talking about something which will soon cease to exist.

One can quarrel with the cyclical budget theory by which governments pay their debts with surpluses during boom times. One can disagree with the companion theory that high taxation represses inflation by reducing the public's appetite for goods. But one cannot quarrel with mathematical figures.

The figures now facing the Canadian government are formidable and quite different from the imaginings of the Conservative party.

It is said that the government has taken in $600 millions more in the current fiscal year than it has spent and that this represents over-taxation.

To begin with, that figure turns out to be wrong. The government will not end the year with any such surplus. No one can foresee how much money the government will collect and spend in the last part of the fiscal year ending March 31, but it could be that the $600 million surplus existing last autumn will be drastically cut by the end of the year since heavy expenditures will occur in the last quarter and revenue collections are always low during this period.

Why has the government accumulated even such a surplus? First because Canadian business grew much more rapidly in 1951 than anyone could have reasonably expected, with a resulting growth in revenues. Secondly, because the armed services could not physically spend all the $1.7 billions voted by Parliament when certain supplies were not yet available. It may well turn out that the surplus will approximately equal the short-fall in defense spending and no more.

But the defense program must go on as scheduled and the money not spent last year will be spent next year. In addition, the government has undertaken other large commitments, including the old age pension scheme, it has raised the wages of its employees, and like every housewife in the land is paying more for everything it buys. Finally, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is asking us for more economic help.

Take all these factors together and the result must be a budget in the next year substantially larger than the $3.7 billion total of the current year. It will be surprising indeed if the budget does not go over the $4 billion mark.

If that happens, the surplus of the current year will not be repeated. But there is another factor leading to the same conclusion—revenue collections are bound to decline a little anyway as a result of a decline in the profits of certain industries. For the present anyway, the government's collections probably are over their peak of 1951.

These conditions could change. An increasing boom could push revenues up again some months hence and even with a larger budget the government could run another surplus. But looking at the figures, not at the theories or the political speeches of its enemies, the government cannot honestly assume that it will have any substantial margin to come or go on in the next fiscal year, at present tax rates. Theories have been replaced by mathematics. "Over-taxation" is rapidly becoming a myth.

A Better Chance For Success

A NEW NOTE OF SANITY HAS come into the Egyptian situation with the declaration of Premier Aly Maher Pasha that "we are ready to consider any understanding Britain might propose."

The riots, burnings and shootings of the past few months, culminating in mob violence in Cairo last week-end, had done nothing to aid in settlement of the dispute. With martial law imposed and Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha dismissed by King Farouk, the prospects are much brighter.

The new premier's conciliatory statement followed closely on Foreign Minister Anthony Eden's renewed offer to discuss the points at issue. Egypt's demands that Britain get out of the Suez Canal region had until now been unaccompanied by any indication of willingness to negotiate. The rampant anti-British feeling of the students was allowed to set the pace for the government, and British retaliation for sniping, ambush and incendiarism fanned the flames.

It is evident that Farouk has decided the movement has gone far enough. He can have no illusions as to the force that would seek to replace the vacuum created by a British departure from the Suez area. The Communist intention has been made clear enough. And Britain's readiness—even desire, as voiced by Mr. Churchill at Washington—to share responsibility for security of the vital canal with other democratic powers should provide a likely meeting point for negotiators.

Britain's position, while difficult, is entirely legal. The treaty of 1936, by which she retained the right to station troops in the Suez, has not been waived. And it cannot be over-ridden by student riots or other acts of violence. The council table, as Farouk appears to remember, is the proper setting for a revision. All that is needed is willingness on both sides. And that willingness seems now to have become mutual.

An Enemy Within The Gates

THE DISCLOSURE OF A SURVEY IN Cincinnati—that children in homes with television sets spend 30 hours a week watching the screen—points up one of the dangers which our scientific "progress" brings upon us.

Thirty hours of concentration a week by children of receptive minds on a medium of admittedly attractive character, could result in a revolution in education.

It could mean that growing youngsters would receive a taste of a hundred different facets of the culture, wisdom and technical skills gradually assembled by the human race during eons of time. It could mean a resurgence of moral training which modern experience has proved to be more than necessary. It could mean instruction in the things whose lack today makes our progress so halting—the human truths, the practical facts, the basic wisdom which might help us to know more clearly the why and wherefore of our existence here on earth. But what does it mean in practice? Mainly trash.

For 30 hours a week—perhaps more, perhaps less—children whose parents permit them may be subjected to a torrent of feeble humor, dime-novel dramatics and corroding mediocrity, dressed up in flambuoyant style and given an appearance of value.

Perhaps more dangerous than the wasted hours and the deadening influence on taste and appreciation are the habits that are being set up. For thousands of children the belief must be growing that entertainment is something to be obtained from outside, that no inner resources need be employed by the human being who would avoid boredom.

Total dependence on the frivolous can develop as surely as dependence on drugs. Hobbies, intelligent interests, self-initiated projects—all are lost in the craving for passive acceptance of someone else's efforts.

Were this tendency an evil thrust upon us by some malignant power we would oppose it with every ounce of strength. But because it is a creature of our own making, one, indeed, in which we pride ourselves, we welcome it into our homes and expose ourselves and our young to it without a thought to its end results. Meanwhile a great medium is being largely wasted. We have labored to reduce a mountain to a molehill.

Satisfied Customers

TOMMY TRINDER, SOMETIMES called "Britain's Bob Hope" is coming to Canada on a sponsored tour in aid of crippled children and poliomyelitis victims. That objective is worthy enough, but it was not the determing factor in persuading the British stage personality to make the trip.

Trinder also has a major interest in the Fulham football team which toured this country last year. When the club returned to Britain, its members talked so much about Canada, Trinder decided to see it for himself.

The instance serves to prove once more the advertising value in a satisfied customer. Fulham footballers crossed this nation, liked it and told their friends. At least one of them was so interested he decided to follow their touring lead.

The example should have significance for Victorians. The value of the visitor industry to this city is generally appreciated. Serious efforts are made to increase the city's attractions, to make the magnet stronger. Admittedly the recent change in the relative values of Canadian and American dollars may have an effect on the volume of tourists coming in from the United States. Yet if Canadian courtesy and consideration for visitors is maintained and improved, the few extra cents should not count too heavily against this country when its visitor appeal is weighed by those making vacation plans.

Nature has given this part of the world many attractions for people living south of the border. Certain improvements are needed in the amenities we offer them when they come here. But when attention is concentrated on improving facilities for tourists, Canadians will make a serious mistake if they fail to recognize the effectiveness of hospitality—the treatment accorded our guests by all our citizens.

Fulham footballers reflect its value. Next to scenery it is probably our most important tourist asset.

Burning The Witch-Hunters?

ACCORDING TO BOB THOMAS, Associated Press Hollywood reporter whose column is carried in this newspaper, the major motion picture producers and independent companies have given whole-hearted support to Stanley Kramer in his $1,000,000 libel action against the organization which has been picketing his "Death of a Salesman."

The support accorded Kramer by the industry appears to give the lie to the picket's allegations of communist connections on the part of the film's makers. Hollywood is extremely sensitive on that point, and would not be expected to give any support were the allegations reasonable.

If the picketing is revealed to be another smear campaign enlisting recruits on a hysterical appeal, Kramer and the motion picture industry will have served a valuable purpose in the suit. The despicable character of "Ordeal by Slander" should be exposed wherever it is attempted.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

THIS is the birthday of Franz Schubert.

I don't see how you could celebrate it better than by going to your favorite record shop and hearing some of his song-cycle, Die Schone Mullerin (the lovely maid of the mill), as sung by Axel Schiotz, the great Danish tenor. It is on HMV records. It is also recorded in the hearts of anyone who loves songs and singing. You will not hear anything lovelier.

Brock

I see that musical scholars are trying to discover something about Hugo Wolf, that other song-making giant of the last century. They want to know if his sudden bursts of energy came during his mad periods or during his lucid ones. I can't see that it matters a lot. Especially when one remembers that during his lucid periods he was always on the verge of another crack-up. I don't even care if he composed better while plastered or better while sober. Only the songs matter.

By the way, his madness and death were the result of the same tragic disease that killed Schubert. I suppose this is only a coincidence, but it does seem a little odd. Can that disease produce magical songs while destroying body and brain? Probably not. And yet . . .

MORE RESEARCH

I AM neither scholar nor musician. But I have noticed one thing about Schubert's Unfinished Symphony that may have escaped you. Probably it is mentioned somewhere in print . . . all things are. I noticed it for myself, though. One of the themes of this symphony is taken almost bodily, with only the slightest of variations, from that very old Latin students' song, Gaudeamus Igitur. (It is the theme used for "You are my song of love, melody immortal," etc., in that Schubertian musical show of the 1920's, Blossom Time). Now why do you suppose Schubert worked that students' song into his rather sad and solemn symphony? Was it done by accident, simply because the tune haunted him after he'd heard drunken students howling it in some beer garden or along the streets of Vienna on their way home? (I assume, for the purpose of argument, that students in the golden age of Vienna really did go home from time to time, just by way of novelty.)

I CANNOT think it was done by accident. If anyone had an ear for a tune, and knew what he was doing, it was Franz Schubert. But then what in the world was his motive? Now THAT is something that really would be worth delving into.

It is usually a mistake to try reading concrete statements into music, which is abstract emotion. Unless it is deliberately imitating natural sounds or trying to sound appropriate to the words of a song, music has no meaning in any exact sense of that word. It has moods, it has feelings, it can suggest all sorts of things. But it can't deliver a closely reasoned argument, and it is rubbish to pretend it can. The surest proof of this is that complete idiots can compose and perform music divinely . . . just as some of them can write heavenly poetry, though none of them can write prose that has any meaning worth heeding. But in this particular case there must be some particular meaning. And what the devil is it? I wish I knew.

A GOOD DEED EVERY DAY

AT TIMES I am a man of sense, and at other times, I fear, I am anything else but that. Not a day passes without my doing or saying some mighty foolish thing. In this I am a fully paid-up member of the human race (to which, as G.K.C. remarks, so many of my readers belong). But I am seldom so foolish as to go urging other men to do good deeds which I am prevented from performing myself. There are few things more annoying than having somebody else working on your conscience for you and making himself feel virtuous in this cheap and easy way, at no trouble or expense to himself. But today I am going to break the rule of a lifetime and ask you to consider doing something I can't do myself.

FOR REASONS which would bore you, and which certainly bore me daily, I'm not able to help actively in Scouting. All I can do is a very tiny bit behind the scenes . . . so tiny that it makes me blush. Even if I could become an active leader of Cubs or Scouts (which I can't), I don't think I'd be a very good one. My temper is too short, I lack certain necessary enthusiasms, I am a bit of a rebel and an anarchist, I laugh freely at authority, and on occasion I am accused of being cynical.

NEVERTHELESS, the community isn't entirely made up of perverse blokes like old Brocky. On every street there is a potential Scout or Cub leader who'd be first-rate at the work. And who'd enjoy the work, too. And who'd relish the curious satisfaction that comes from making nice kids even nicer, and showing them what to do with their time and with their lives, brief though these things are. The growth of Scouting depends on the supply of leaders, not the supply of willing lads. I know of one Cub pack (not in Victoria) with 100 boys and one man. This makes it simply a rowdy boys' club, and not a good club either. It is a disgrace to us all, and it is not unique.

Miracle Maker

New York Times

Mr. Churchill's mission was worth while, if only because it clarified our vision of the inseparable destinies of Britain and the United States. We Americans are not kindly souls handing out the necessities of life to the deserving poor. We are partners and comrades in a common effort.

This was certainly what Mr. Churchill wanted us to realize anew, even while he insisted, as he did, that each country must work out its own domestic destiny. If the mission has actually succeeded, in this Presidential season, it will be one of the outstanding miracles in Mr. Churchill's career.

We do not say this skeptically. Mr. Churchill has almost always been able to "pass a miracle" when a situation urgently demanded one.

WANTS PENSION ABROAD

I was pleased to read in your paper today that 69,500 cheques were to go out this week to old age pensioners in British Columbia.

But despite a publicized generosity of the government there seems to be "a string attached." I called at the Victoria office of the Old Age Pension Dept. and they told me that no payments are made while living in another country exceeding six months. I happen to be living on a corporation pension and with the addition of $40 a month I thought it was possible to spend some of my declining years with relatives in England.

Why should a Canadian government dictate to a Canadian citizen as to where he should spend his money in peacetimes? I still pay my income tax if I live in England and it seems more like Russian tyranny than Canadian democracy to issue such an order.

A DISAPPOINTED PENSIONER.

PARK DANGER

Saanich Chamber of Commerce are to be commended for committing themselves to the desecration of Buttle Lake, Strathcona Park. Their brilliant business intuition should make thinking people realize the extent of the threat hanging over the security of our public parks.

The Saanich Peninsula is fortunate in possessing a beautiful provincial park, which attracts many visitors every year. Unfortunately, under order in council No. 2055, approved on Sept. 17, 1949, prospecting and mining are permitted in John Dean Park.

Wiser citizens of Saanich will realize that their Chamber of Commerce, having decided to encourage the industrial abuse of one fine provincial park, will be in no position to defend their own park when its turn comes. But do they care?

DENIS H. BESLEY.

HARBOR PROBLEM

I am a visitor who has just completed a three-weeks' stay in your fine city. Since my last trip west 10 years ago, Victoria seems to have grown considerably. If it is not improper for a stranger to do so, I would like to make an observation upon a matter which your people seems to be overlooking and which is quite serious. I refer to your harbor.

This is your big asset as an Island community, but you are not developing it for future needs. Your trade with the mainland must be sea or airborne. Heavy freight must come by sea. For a growing city your dockage is far too limited and if you don't look out you will perhaps lose your trade to some other Island port, for example, Nanaimo.

I observe industries and residences built right on deep water harborage. This is really serious for you Victorians if you stop to realize it. My suggestion is that you should at once get busy and have your government or city council or other proper authority see that all available harborage on both sides from the entrance to the bridge is secured for future harbor purposes.

If further industrial concerns are allowed to build on the waterfront it will be a costly job buying them out later on and that time is surely coming.

JOHN SCHUYLER.

New York.

MILK AND BUTTER

As I delivered milk in Winnipeg for 22 years I am interested in the question. There is one way the price of milk could be kept down if the public was willing. The city could be divided into districts, and each milk company deliver all the milk in it instead of three or four trucks covering the same ground. The old question of one having better milk is washed out by the case lately of a fine for supplying over-rich milk.

Giving the stores cheap milk did not work out in Winnipeg for they did not live up to the law. No delivery. But where a customer was taking a good supply of milk they delivered it so as to get the other trade. Also they were at no loss at that time as the dairies exchanged the left-over milk each day.

With regard to coloring margarine. I wonder what would happen if the dairy people were stopped from putting color in their butter. I have been in Canada over 50 years and have churned butter often, and I know butter made in winter especially is nearly white, unless color is added. The law is a funny thing. I know of one milk company that was fined for putting color in their milk to make it look rich, still they are allowed to use the same coloring in butter. Why?

SWEEPSTAKES

If a plebiscite is to be held on this question the more we all know about it the better. Most people cannot see any harm in the odd government-sponsored sweepstake in a good cause. The danger is that, once started, it may prove the thin end of the wedge. What if it does?

Take, for example, Spain. The country is run on sweepstakes. Paying taxes is probably the nation's most popular pastime. How does it work out?

The man who has a sufficient income, knowing that his chance is negligible, doesn't bother to buy a ticket. The man who has nothing dreams day and night of winning, scrapes and saves what he hasn't got, and lives on the verge of starvation.

The poor pay almost all the country's taxes, the rich are relatively tax-free, and the general economy of both classes remains the most miserable in Europe, although Spain, like Switzerland, escaped the ravages of both world wars; but in the latter country even the Canadian dollar is still at a discount. True these are end-results. All our vote does is to decide in which direction we shall drive our car.

This is just another slant which perhaps some readers hadn't thought of.

R. G. H. MURRAY.

Comment On Local Scene

TREES

I would like to add my protest against the ruthless cutting down of beautiful and healthy trees.

During the 16 years I have lived in Victoria, I have seen street after street denuded of beautiful trees, which had taken years to grow and were at their prime when removed.

Now they are starting to ruin Beacon Hill Park, I wonder where it will all end.

I think the parks superintendent should be sentenced to live the rest of his life on the bald-headed prairie. Maybe he would realize the beauty of trees if he lived where there were none.

ALICE M. TAYLOR.

Gordon Head Road.

SEA SHORE

Sunday the sun came out in a blaze of warm glory. To us all there was the urge to get out and enjoy the wonderful change in the atmosphere.

By nature people turned towards the coast and sea shore. Crowds of people were along the breakwater and it was too bad they had to trip over untidy train tracks and along muddy paths to get there.

Why is there no sea parade front in Victoria that other coast towns have?

Some returned to the beach by the Dallas Road. There they found the heat thrown down to the rocks below. The steps and wall rotting away and step railing destroyed.

A dangerous location, especially for children.

CHARLES CLARKE.

FLUORIDATION

Re fluoridation. Mr. Gregson's letter in Jan. 14 Times referring to dangerous effects of fluorine upon men and other animals in the U.S.A. should be considered seriously.

Already most of our prepared foods are chemically treated and health officers and city councils seem determined to adopt every fad originating in the U.S.A.

The use of fluorine in every town and city in North America would result in a billion dollar business, and this would be only a first step. We agree with Mayor Harrison in his opposition to any further tampering with the water supply.

BEAUTIFICATION

When I picked up the Times of Tuesday, Jan. 22, and saw the heading, "Mayor Presses for Beautification," it made me feel very sad. I have been resident in Victoria 45 years, and Dallas Road has been my favorite walk. During the last 20 years or so, I have seen the natural beauty of Dallas Road systematically destroyed.

Do you remember what a glorious sight it was to see Beacon Hill in the months of May and June, wearing her glorious crown of broom, year after year? A sight that Kipling so feelingly describes in one of his books. Where is it now? Just look around and note what a bare, barren place it is now.

Take the entrance to the park at the corner of Dallas and Cook. Lovers' Lane it is called. There used to be a very beautiful little copse there at one time, but now it is so criss-crossed with trails that its natural beauty is completely destroyed.

What has become of all that beautiful broom that used to be seen on the right from Cook Street to Clover Point? All gone—all destroyed; now just an eyesore. To me all this beautification (?) is nothing more or less than destruction of natural beauty that in years past made Victoria famous.

Do you remember how the banks, or cliffs, caved in year after year after diagonal paths had been cut across them, destroying completely the paths made years ago? Beautification, indeed!

E. T. CHANEY.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"IT'S amazing," said the Elevator Man, "how customs and activities hang on. In the business field, action is usually pretty swift. Once the reason for a thing passes, the thing itself disappears pronto. You don't see many buggy whip factories or mustache cup producers around these days. They faded out right on the heels of horses and mustaches. Where money's concerned you don't get long delayed reactions. That's why it's hard to explain why the last horse collar factory in St. Louis closed only this week. The owner, in locking the door, said he hadn't sold a horse collar since 1946. The big question is, what's he been doing ever since? Has he just gone on making them, so that now he has a 50 years' supply stuck away in some warehouse? Or did he just sit down among the ones he had on hand, and slowly gather dust and memories? It's an intriguing point, and I wish the news item had given more details. Going down!

Tobin

"A case like that," said the Elevator Man, "makes you wonder just how long some of the things we see around us now are going to last. I wonder how long it will be before we're reading an item such as: The last television factory closed its doors today. The owner said he hadn't sold a set since 1976. Some such items you can be pretty sure of. We're getting a preview of them in the papers even now. The last big tree in Saanich cut down, the last ton of coal mined here or there, the last horse-drawn milk cart retired, and so on. Mezzanine!

"There's something attractive," said the Elevator Man, "in a sense of permanency. You get a feeling of stability from such cases as the restoration of Westminster Hall in the Houses of Parliament after the blitz bombing. They got the oak timbers for the roof from the same family and the same forest that had provided them more than 300 years before. We'll be lucky if we can do that sort of thing with our forests—though we're likely to run into the same reason for reconstruction sooner or later. After all, I suppose we can't expect our environment to be any more permanent than ourselves. And it looks like we're being plumb careless about the latter."

3 C.P.R. Workers Die In Train Crash

GRAND FALLS, N.B., Jan. 31 (CP).—Collision of two freight trains Wednesday at Argosy, N.B., caused the death of three Canadian Pacific Railway employees.

The dead: P. L. Beaulieu, 49, and H. H. Dixon, 33, both sectionmen, of Ortonville, N.B., and conductor H. Perley Cox, 56, Aroostock, N.B.

Argosy is three miles south of Grand Falls, on the McAdam-Edmundston branch line of the C.P.R.

The engine of one freight plowed into the van of the other, which had stopped to take on water.

Holy Man Challenges Premier Nehru

ALLAHABAD, India, Jan. 31 (AP).—A rarity in politics—a candidate sworn to silence—is challenging India's loquacious Prime Minister Nehru for a seat in parliament.

He is bearded Prabhu Dutt Brahmachari, a Hindu Sadhu (holy man) who, has taken an oath never to speak.

Brahmachari has conducted a strong campaign in Allahabad, Nehru's home town, presiding over meetings and silently receiving the homage of his followers while lieutenants speak for him.

His support is so strong that Nehru abandoned earlier plans not to visit his own constituency. His Congress Party concentrated some of their best campaigners in this area.

Voting in Nehru's own constituency will be finished this month.

Brahmachari's main campaign plank is opposition to the Hindu code bill, which confers on Hindu women rights which their Western sisters have long taken for granted.

"Its passage," he tells voters in written messages, "will mean the ruin of Hindu culture and religion."

Now India's largest state, it is the last to go to the polls. Its 32,000,000 voters spread over 114,000 square miles will elect 430 members to the state legislature and 86 to the central parliament. More than 2,600 persons, representing 14 parties, are competing for these seats.

ENRICHED BREAD

Bread enrichment, or the adding of synthetic vitamins and minerals to bread products, was adopted on a large scale about 1940.

One Meatless Day

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 31 (Reuters)—Argentina, one of the world's main suppliers of meat, imposed domestic meat rationing for the first time Wednesday. Restaurants and hotels throughout the country will observe one meatless day a week.

The rationing was ordered after the food carterers' union recommanded one meatless day a week to "stimuate consumption of other foods which Argentina produces in abundance."

New Zealander Urges Canada To Keep Commonwealth Bonds

TORONTO, Jan. 31 (CP).—T. C. A. Hislop, high commissioner for New Zealand, urged Canadians today to keep the spirit and idealism of the Commonwealth burning bright in Canada for it is on the strength of this spirit "that our common safety over the years ahead depends."

Danger unites, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Empire Club of Canada, and thus the trials and stresses of war have brought closer the members of the Commonwealth.

"Let us," he urged, "keep in the forefront of our thoughts the basic ideals that united us, let us remember our past, let us meet one another and really get to know each other."

ON THE LABOR SCENE

By DAVE STOCK

There were 235 work stoppages on the Canadian labor scene last year because of strikes and lock-outs.. But many of the production breaks affected only a relatively small number of workers and were of short duration. As a result, the actual total of man-hours lost during the year was lower than at any time since 1944.

Stock

According to a report just issued by the federal department of labor, the 235 strikes and lock-outs involved 87 224 workers, and the time lost amounted to 872,300 working days. The loss in pay to those affected by the work shutdowns came to about $7,250,000.

In 1950 there were only 161 work stoppages, but 192,153 workers were involved and total time loss for that year was 1,389,039 man days.

The labor department says 50 per cent of 1951's strikes resulted from action taken by unions to back up demands for wage increases. The department says further that wage demands and related factors accounted for more than 70 per cent of the total time loss.

There were three strikes in Victoria during the year. All came after companies and unions were unable to come to terms during wage negotiations.

Furniture workers at Victoria Bed & Mattress Co., Ltd., were out for 31 days early in the year.

In October, shipyard boilermakers struck at Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrows Ltd., and stayed away from work four weeks. Then, brewery workers went on strike and tied up the Phoenix Brewery plant.

SPEAKS IN DUAL ROLE

Cabinet Minister John Cates had his first chance to speak in his dual capacity as minister of labor and minister of mines when he went before the International Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers' convention in Vancouver Wednesday.

As labor minister, he noted 5.76 per cent of B.C.'s union members worked in mines and quarries, and complimented those in the industry for their safety record.

As minister of mines, he outlined steps being taken by the government to open up and encourage mining development in promising areas of the province.

* * *

The B.C. Federation of Labor, which co-ordinates C.C.L. policy for unions of that affiliation throughout the province, will hold its annual convention this week-end in Vancouver. Sessions are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. Victoria will be represented by a strong delegation.

* * *

U.S. Secretary of Labor Tobin has predicted 8,500,000 people will be employed in defense activities in that country by the end of the year. In 1950, defense industry accounted for 2,700,000 workers.

About 4,500,000 Americans were engaged in armament production at the end of last year, it is estimated.

Labor Tribute Paid To Late J. F. Thomson

Spokesmen for Victoria's two main labor bodies expressed deep regret today over the death of James F. Thomson, deputy minister of labor.

Robert Smeal, president of the C.C.L. Victoria Labor Council, said:

"It is with deep regret we learn of the ultimely passing of Jimmy Thomson. His intimate understanding and experience in employer-employee relations will make it very difficult to find someone to continue his work. Labor has lost a good friend and the people of the province, an invaluable employee."

Percy Rayment, secretary of the T.L.C., Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, said: "Labor as a whole will regret to hear of his death. He was for many years an active trade unionist, which gave him the necessary background for the position he held. He was always ready to give information and advice. I am certain he will be missed in labor circles."

Harvey Alexander Anxiously Awaits News of Current Baseball Drive

HARVEY MAKES THE DRIVE WORTHWHILE

He Is More Than Just A Fan

By DENNY BOYD

The most avid fan of the Victoria Athletics has never seen them play. He has never been to Athletic Park but he knows every inch of the diamond.

It's an inspiration and a pleasure to talk baseball with Harvey Alexander — especially now when Victoria needs the aid of every ball fan in the city.

Alexander fits into the fan category but in his case he is more than just a fan; baseball is a part of his life.

Harvey has been a baseball fan for 25 years, but his interest has increased since 1943 when he lost his eyesight. Since then, his eyes have been those of sportscaster Bill Stephenson, who broadcasts the A's games.

Every night the A's play, Alexander is close by his radio, making every play, inning after inning and reliving each game until the next.

He was deeply worried when he found that there was a danger of baseball dying in Victoria—he remembers that it took 25 years to bring it back the last time it was lost to the city.

He realized that without baseball he would lose one of his greatest pleasures in life. So he did his part. He contacted the Athletic Booster Club and made a donation towards the fund drive so that he could continue "seeing" baseball through the medium of his radio.

"What we need here," he explains, "is a couple of men like Coley Hall. I remember back in the hungry 30's I was out of work and used to spend all my time with ball players. Coley was one of them.

"Coley didn't have a dime to his name at that time, but was just the same as he is now. As a player he was an Eddie Stanky type, always a fighter and people loved to boo him."

Alexander thinks Victoria is a great sports town, but says: "You know, people here are funny. They must have a winner. If a team loses a couple of one-run games the fans think it's terrible, and that the club is falling apart. That happened here in 1950 when they lost close to 20 one-run games. Those ones are just plain bad luck.

"I do think we need just a little something more than ball games here. We need promotion that will get the people out to the park so that you can sell the game—some kind of an attraction."

It's for men like Harvey Alexander that the Boosters are working night and day. They don't want to let him down.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Ken Reardon, Montreal Canadiens' goodwill ambassador and l'homme d'affaires checked into town Tuesday night after blithely announcing he will be back to watch Victoria Cougars in the Pacific Coast Hockey Playoffs.

Yep! That's what he said, but before he takes his leave in order that he may return he'll stick around for a couple of days, and for a couple of hockey games in which the Cougars will participate this week-end.

Reardon, who will report directly to Franke Selke on what he sees, or doesn't see—Selke being general manager of the Canadiens—paid the Cougars a visit last season. But things were going differently then. The Cougars were winning.

Walker

What's Ken got in the back of his mind? Not much until he sees the Cougars, except perhaps a report from coach Roger Leger on the Canadien farmhands plus Lester Patrick and Fred Hutchinson's opinions of the hab chattels.

But about things in the east, Ken had kind words for some ex-Victorians in a recent report.

First there's Lorne Davis. He once was a Cougar though his fame will be remembered here as a member of the Vancouver Canucks.

Davis holds the unique record of having scored a goal in each of his first games in the P.C.H.L., American and National Hockey Leagues.

And, it seems that Davis may have had the gate to the big time opened to him by Maurice "The Rocket" Richard.

For, you see the Rocket's got a tummy ache. Not just a normal tummy ache but a mysterious groin ailment which medicos so far have failed to diagnose correctly. And Davis who caused a few bellyaches here with his performances against the Cougars (he being Montreal property) may be the lad to step into Rocket's right wing berth.

★ ★ ★

Reardon also had favorable remarks for another Coast Leaguer—Murph Chamberlain by name, who put the finger on Davis this season as headed for the N.H.L.

Old "Hard Rock's" doing a fine job at Buffalo in his new post with, as Reardon says, "little to work with."

But some of that "little" includes Eddie Mazur, who it is said has improved tremendously under Murph. Former Buffalo coach Leroy Goldsworthy, now a golf pro at Vancouver, said earlier this year that Mazur had suffered a poor start, but was expected to come along as the season progressed. Ed is apparently living up to Goldsworthy's predictions.

Of Stan Long, another of Murph's charges at Buffalo, Reardon said: "He'll make the grade with the Canadiens, if not next year, which is likely, for certain two year's hence. (Goldsworthy predicted Long's tenure in the A.H.L. would end this season).

★ ★ ★

Reardon also gave the tipoff on Murph's character, something Victoria fans never could understand, though they admired the little fireball for his spunk and fighting heart.

Murph is one of the school—a guy who asks no more of a player than he could have done in his heyday. And a great heyday it was. Murph, blessed with a terrific competitive spirit, just can't understand those who haven't got that same intestinal fortitude, regardless of accepted ability. It has long been said that Murph stayed in the N.H.L. longer than his hockey ability decreed—playing on heart alone.

★ ★ ★

Those of particular attention to Reardon this week will be—Andy Hebenton, Bob Frampton, Ernie Roche, Eddie Dorohoy, Doug Anderson and Leon Bouchard.

But you can bet your share in the "save baseball" fund that he'll be well briefed on a couple of other items before he enters Memorial Arena Friday.

And maybe . . . yes, maybe . . . Reardon just might be the guy to spot what's ailing the Cats.

He said he'd be back for the playoffs.

★ ★ ★

Clairvoyancy is described by Webster as "prenaturally clear or acute perception especially of what is not ordinarily discernible."

Mr. Reardon: Victoria trusts in the divine gift with which you have been provided.

We like our Cougars just as we like our baseball. Perhaps you aren't interested in saving baseball, but the Cougars . . . you'll be welcome back the next time . . . for the playoffs.

EX-VICTORIANS COMING

Tide Confident Of Cup Victory

U.B.C. will invade the peace and serenity of Macdonald Park Saturday to play the third game of the McKechnie Cup rugby series with Victoria's Crimson Tide.

The expected 2,000 strong student invasion from the campus had to be cancelled because of the inability to charter a boat for the crossing, but a comparatively large contingent will still appear.

Actually, this should be a homey game with no less than six of the Varsity line-up hailing from Victoria.

The six locals are John Newton, Gerry Main, Bill Mulholland, Charlie Brumwell, Frank Gower and Bob Dunlop.

COLLEGE GRADS

Newton, a graduate of Oak Bay Wanderers, will be at left wing three-quarters, while Gerry Main will square off at left centre. Bill Mulholland, formerly of J.B. A.A., will hook for the scrum, which also includes ex-Victoria College stars Charlie Brumwell and Frank Gower.

Another college graduate, Bob Dunlop, will be used as reserve.

Fullback position on the Varsity squad will be filled in by Pete Von Harten.

George Puill is at right wing three-quarters while Stan Clarke fills in at right centre.

Bill Whyte is the standoff with Denny Oliver, scrum half, and Doug McMillan, Ralf Martinson, Girard Kirby and Bill Walmsley in the front rank.

Other reserves besides Dunlop are: Dave MacFarlane, Peter Grantham and Hugh Greenwood. Albert Laithwaite is coach and John Tennant, manager.

Victoria will field the same team that scored the smashing 20-5 victory over Vancouver Lions with one exception. The locals will be without the services of Jack Gibbs, who injured his shoulder during a league match a few weeks ago.

McKENZIE ON CLUB

In his place will be ex-Scottish International Dave McKenzie, who will start at right wing three-quarter with Gary Pynn moving into Gibb's spot at right centre. The three-line will be completed by Hugh Burnett and Art Hicks. Derek Hyde-Ley will be at fullback with Ray Calton standoff and Gary Webster, scrum half.

Harry Turner, John Bigelow, John Poole, Bill Thorburn, Colin Blyth and Keith MacDonald are forwards.

At the present time Victoria, Vancouver Lions and Varsity Thunderbirds are tied for first place, with North Shore in the cellar.

Game time is 2.30 at Macdonald Park.

To Name City Rep Soccer Team Tonight

If players in the Victoria and District Football Association have red ears tonight it will not be surprising.

All players will be discussed at great length at the British Public Schools Club as league executive and managers meet to choose an all-star team to oppose Victoria United in a benefit match for the injured players' fund and Cliff Robbins whose head is still encased in a plaster cast protecting the jaw he fractured during a recent game. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock.

Another topic of the business agenda will be the possibility of changing the name of the Victoria City team. The British Columbia Government Employees' Association, sponsors of the club, have requested that the team name be changed to Civil Service.

Tickets for the United All-Star game will go on sale immediately and will be available at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday.

SIX STRAIGHT

NELSON, B.C., Jan. 31 (CP).—Nelson Maple Leafs, now hard on the heels of the second-place Trail Smoke Eaters, racked up their sixth straight win Wednesday night by plastering Spokane Flyers 4-2 here.

Arnold Ferguson Out As Shamrock Coach?

Hands In Resignation; Special Meeting Called

By BILL WALKER

Arnold Ferguson today revealed that he had tendered his resignation as playing coach of the Shamrocks of the Intercity Lacrosse League. Team manager Ralph Baker confirmed the statement.

In announcing his action, Ferguson said:

"I feel that under existing conditions I don't have complete confidence in myself as playing coach. There is a small faction in the team that apparently does not agree as to my worth as playing coach."

CUT IN WAGES?

Ferguson declined to explain what was meant by "worth," but apparently was referring to the fact that last year he received a double share. This year, rumors are that Ferguson's authority has been deleted somewhat.

Baker, in confirming the report, said he hoped Ferguson would reconsider his decision, but admitted that it was strictly a matter for the club as a whole to act upon.

A special club meeting has been called for Friday night to discuss the surprise move by the man who has coached and played a leading part in the Shamrocks' rise to prominence during the last two years.

Baker opined that there were only two alternatives. Either Ferguson's resignation would be accepted, or the club would vote to ask him to reconsider.

"He has the right to appear at the meeting," Baker said, "but has stated that he will not attend."

Ferguson was voted the league's most valuable player in 1950. He formerly played for New Westminster Adanacs.

UNITED ASKS RENT REDUCTION

Victoria United is seeking a reduction in park fees at Royal Athletic Park. The inter-city club is asking for a fee of $45 or $50 per game instead of the present 20 per cent of the gate charge.

A club delegation met the city council Wednesday and explained that United was having trouble meeting expenses under the percentage system.

Delegates from the Victoria Rugby Union recently met with the council to also complain about park rental.

Navy 12, Individuals 2; Merchants 4, Civil Service 1; Seven-Up 5, Army 3

By DENNY BOYD

The style-conscious Navy club of the Commercial Hockey League trotted out new sweaters Wednesday night, chick blue creations with white necklines. With those new adornments they also trotted out a ferocity that has been missing these many weeks.

Attired in their stunning garb, the sailors clobbered Individual Cleaners, 12-2, in an orgy of explosive fury that has been unmatched this season.

Navy earlier in the season whomped Seven-Ups, 10-1, but Wednesday night they bettered that record.

It was fairly even for two periods, Al Standley, Bunker Hill, Ray Shedlowski and Ed LaVern piloting Navy to a 4-0 lead going into the third period.

Standley got his second goal early in the third, and Bob Fowler put Cleaners on the score sheet, converting Arnold Elliott's pass.

FALL APART

From then on, Cleaners' rearguard became a missing entity and the back-checking of the forwards a lost cause. Navy began streaking over the blue-line three, four and even five abreast.

Through it all—eight goals in the third period—Cleaners' goalie Derek "Bones" McCooey was at the mercy of the Navy forwards. He stopped enough shots to win any game, but practically all the blasts at him were taken at liberty with enough time to tee the puck up like a golf ball.

HIGH SCORERS

Standley and Roy Derry profited most from the Cleaners' defensive collapse, collecting two goals and an assist each.

Seven-Ups retained their three-point lead over Merchants by rapping in two last-period goals to defeat a stubborn Army club, 5-3, while Merchants had little trouble tucking Civil Service away, 4-1.

After only one minute and 26 seconds Roy White skated right in on top of Seven-Ups' goalie Phil Bremner to put the soldiers in front, 1-0.

SEE-SAW FIGHT

Ed Varga, Fred Deutcher and Norm LaCree tallied quickly to grab the lead for Seven-Ups, 3-1, before the period ended. In the second period, Stew Vary, Army's leading scorer, rapped in two goals in 24 seconds, but Stan Colburn and Varga notched third-period counters for the win.

Although they had the best man on the ice in Les Corby, Civil Service could not give him any help and bowed 4-1 to the impressive Merchants, who again were backed by superlative goalkeeping on the part of Ab Ellis.

Conny McBeth's rising blast caught the corner for Merchants' first goal late in the first period but Corby stole the puck off Ellis' skates to tie it up. Merchants' playing coach Bill Jensen, collected two goals and hustling Jimmy Gallant a singleton, while Ellis was deflating the G-Man's few offensive thrusts.

SHAMROCKS BID FOR IMPORTS

Flavelle Or Fulla In Goal For Irish?

By BILL WALKER

Nanaimo's Fred Fulla and Hamilton's Doug Flavelle appear as the most likely prospects for the goal-keeping job with the 1952 Shamrocks; Bill Andrews having retired.

It was revealed by Shamrock manager Ralph Baker that sponsor Earl Pollock is at present in eastern Canada with a view to advising Flavelle the opportunities that could be his by coming west.

Flavelle, one of the better-known goal-tenders in eastern lacrosse circles, is regarded as being outranked nationally only by "Moon" Wooten, of Peterborough Timbermen.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, it's no secret now that Wooten was approached with regard to making Victoria his future boxla home during the visit of the Timbermen here. However, Wooten is apparently satisfied with arrangements at Peterborough, and has so advised the Shamrocks.

DOUG FLAVELLE

★ ★ ★

Flavelle played a major part in Owen Sound's victory over New Westminster Adanacs in the 1950 Mann Cup final in Toronto when Wooten, then playing for Owen Sound, was injured and had to be replaced.

He won the Mike Kelly award as the outstanding player in the 1948 series when Hamilton beat Adanacs three games to two.

★ ★ ★

Also on Pollock's negotiation list in the east is Harry Whipper, member of last year's Peterborough club.

★ ★ ★

At present a student at McGill University Whipper graduates this year. It is expected that Pollock will paint a rosy picture of British Columbia's booming industry and the opportunities that may be gained by a university graduate in this particular field, not forgetting to mention, of course, the Shamrocks and other lucrative opportunities.

★ ★ ★

Fulla also fits into the picture says Baker because of the possibility of New Westminster Adanacs switching their allegiance from the Commandos to Nanaimo. Apparently dissension has all but split the Salmonbelly and Adanac combine, and if so, Fulla naturally would be willing to listen to other offers.

FRED FULLA

Baker is certain that Fulla would like to play for Victoria, but doesn't want to raid the Nanaimo club in its present state.

★ ★ ★

Jack Northup, of New Westminster Commandos, has been mentioned previously as "interested" in moving to Victoria.

★ ★ ★

Baker had none but kind words for Andrews. "He was fair to the team in announcing his resignation in time for us to secure a replacement," Baker said.

"Few knew it but Bill was playing under doctor's orders to take things easy last year. And he certainly has been a credit to the club."

★ ★ ★

On the local scene it has been learned that both radio stations CJVI and CKDA have applied for broadcast rights for this season. CJVI aired all home games and playoff games last year.

Rockets Rout In-Out Stamps

Hand Visitors Second Straight Coast Defeat

By the Canadian Press

When the mood hits them, Calgary Stampeders can fire goals at a machine-gun clip. But on other nights, they're strictly catchers.

The latest account is about one of those "other" nights.

Tacoma Rockets poured a 12-6 decision down Stampeders' gullet Wednesday night in what was the Tacomans' biggest scoring splurge of this Pacific Coast Hockey League season.

The next-to-the-cellar Stampeders now have lost two straight games in their latest campaign on the Coast.

Rockets, in third place in the standings, took a 4-3 lead in the first period, added two more goals in the second, and then peppered in six goals in the final session.

Calgary was held scoreless in the second but added three goals in the third, with Rockets too busy scoring to bother concentrating on defense.

Rookie Chuck MacDonald picked up three goals for Rockets and Calgary's George Agar turned in a hat trick in the third.

Moe Young scored twice for Tacoma. Singles went to Wayne Brown, Gordy Kerr, Warren Godfrey, Bill Davidson, Wingy Johnson, Barton Bradley and Buck Jones.

Bob Goodacre hit twice and Bing Juckes once to complete the Calgary scoring.

Action resumes Friday night with Calgary at Victoria and New Westminster at Vancouver.

OLYMPIC TRACK COACH

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (UP)—The New York Herald Tribune predicted Wednesday night that Brutus Hamilton, athletic director and track coach at the University of California, will be selected as coach of the United States Olympic track and field team which will compete at Helsinki, Finland, this summer.

CURRIE CASE CLOSED CHAPTER

EDMONTON, Jan. 31 (CP)—The issue of Frank Currie's dismissal as coach of Edmonton Flyers of the Pacific Coast Hockey League apparently is a closed chapter.

The board of directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, sponsor of the club, has announced that a players' petition protesting the recent ousting of the former Montrealer has been filed. There was no official comment.

The petition was signed by all team players. They promised, however, to continue playing under Currie's successor, playing coach Doug McCaig, former Detroit Red Wing defenseman.

WALCOTT MAY DEFY I.B.C.

Heavy Title Fight 'Tentative'

By ROY CALVIN
United Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (UP)—A person close to the negotiations reported today that champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Harry Matthews had signed "conditional contracts" for a heavyweight title fight in early May at Las Vegas, Nev., and that Walcott had received an advance of $50,000.

That report exceeded considerably the substance of Wednesday night's official announcement from the negotiators. The announcement admitted merely that Walcott had been offered a $250,000 guarantee for the fight and that his manager, Felix Bocchicchio, had "tentatively accepted" the offer.

According to last night's announcement, there still was some uncertainty whether the fight would be scheduled for Las Vegas or Los Angeles.

However, today's informant said, "the bout is set for Las Vegas unless attorneys for the International Boxing Club can prevent its being staged."

Promoter Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club have prior contracts on Walcott. Those documents are in the safe at New York headquarters of the I.B.C. One is a three-year contract for Walcott's exclusive services. The other is a three-way contract in which Walcott guarantees to make his first defense against ex-champion Ezzard Charles in a return bout under I.B.C. promotion.

Harry Hunt, a California "public relations counsel," who is negotiating the Las Vegas fight, assured the managers of Walcott and Matthews here Wednesday that neither I.B.C. contract would "stand up in court because of their monopoly angles."

Jack Hurley, who manages contender Matthews of Seattle, eagerly agreed that the documents "will be tossed out of court."

Bocchicchio, Walcott's pilot, apparently was willing to gamble that the contracts would not prove legal barriers. He said he would confer Saturday with Norris at Coral Gables, Fla., and ask the I.B.C. prexy if he could match the $250,000 guarantee for a defense against any contender—Matthews, Charles or Rocky Marciano. And if Norris couldn't, Bocchicchio would go through with the Matthews fight for Hunt and his Las Vegas backer.

The backer, incidentally, is Wilbur Clark—operator of a resort and gambling casino in Las Vegas. Clark admitted last night in the Nevada city that he would put up "a couple hundred thousand dollars or more" for Walcott and "maybe $75,000 for Matthews if Hunt could bring him the signed contracts.

Clark did not say he had advanced any money yet for the proposed fight.

DRIVE HITS $6,000 MARK; REPRIEVE MAY BE GRANTED

The Victoria Athletics reached second base Wednesday night and took a short lead towards third with the announcement that the funds drive had reached a figure of slightly over $6,000.

Although the aim is still $35,000, it is known that if $12,000 is collected, Victoria will be back in the good graces of the Western International Baseball League. A report must be made to the W.I.L. in Seattle Saturday morning at 10. With half that total in by Wednesday, baseball officials are confident that the drive will be successful.

Should the reprieve be granted by the league, the drive will continue next week so that the A's can start the season with a clean slate.

No word has been received from the canvassers who are covering the business districts in all municipalities but it is expected that their collections may send the total over the top.

ANOTHER JOE LOUIS?

Henry Is In A Hurry

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (UP)—A possible successor to boxing's famed Brown Bomber Joe Louis made a set-up of a rough challenger last night.

Clarence Henry, who weighed 187 pounds compared to 180 for Bob Satterfield, slugged the once durable Chicago battler into complete defeat in 1 minute and 41 seconds before 6,880 fans in the Chicago Stadium.

It didn't take long for the referee to end the battle. Satterfield was draped over the ropes and took an eight count after Henry tagged him with a right hook. Hardly had he recovered before he was on the seat of his pants for a nine count, and he was barely on his feet before Henry drove him a clean left hook which sent him down for another nine. That was enough.

"Now I'd like to fight the guy who'll give me the biggest gate," Henry said, "and that seems to me to be (Rocky) Marciano."

Marciano seemed a little far removed, but Truman Gibson, I.B.C. secretary, indicated Archie Moore might be Henry's next foe, with Marciano in the background.

Young Musicians Win Medals And Diplomas

Youthful Artists Rewarded

Young musicians were presented with awards and diplomas of the Royal Conservatory Wednesday. Seated, front row, Diana Bruntlett and Wendy Gerry, silver medalists, grades 1 and 2, violin. Left to right, Carol Wootton, silver medalist, Grade 10; Marjorie Sturgeon, A.R.C.T., diploma for piano and singing; Noel Smith, seated, district representative of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto; Mrs. George Phillips, seated; Mrs. Maurice Chandler, president of the Royal Conservatory Alumni, Victoria Chapter; Ferne Rath, A.R.C.T., diploma, piano.

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Medals for encouragement and diplomas with which to open the door to a musical future! These, in the apt phrase of Noel Smith, A.R.C.T., were the awards presented to eight Victoria students at a special meeting, Wednesday evening, of the Victoria Chapter of the Royal Conservatory Alumni.

The event took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Wootton, Victoria Avenue. Miss Smith, Victoria and District representative of the Conservatory, was introduced by Mrs. Maurice Chandler, president of the local chapter.

Mrs. George Phillips, a past student at the Conservatory, addressed the gathering, describing the building and its environs and personalities who had contributed to the growth and traditions of the institution.

Silver medals were presented to Wendy Gerry, Grade 1, violin, and Diana Bruntlett, Grade 2, violin, for gaining highest marks in these grades in British Columbia. Both are pupils of Mrs. Gertrude Bates.

HIGHEST IN GRADE 10

The medal for highest marks in Grade 10, pianoforte, went to Carol Wootton, pupil of Stanley Shale, A.R.C.T. Diplomas were awarded as follows: Piano, teacher's diploma, Ferne Rath, pupil of Stanley Shale. Singing, solo performer, Mrs. Marjorie Sturgeon, pupil of Roberto Wood; and piano, teacher's diploma, pupil of Stanley Shale. Solo performer, singing, Mrs. Lorna Griffiths, pupil of Roberto Wood.

Piano, teacher's diploma, Colleen Erb, pupil of Una Calvert. Clarinet, solo performer, Charles Denike. All, with the exception of Mr. Denike, were students of James Gerry for theoretical subjects, harmony and composition.

A short recital was presented by the medalists, Miss Wootton supplying two extensive groups. She is a young pianist who shows definite promise of attaining the full stature of a concert artist. What is most important is the noticeable presence of qualities too often lacking — she has fire and imagination and the ability of listening to herself.

Her selections included the F Sharp Minor Nocturne of Chopin, "The Lark", Glinka-Balakirew; "The Maiden and the Nightingale", Granados; and a rhapsody by Donhanyi.

The two small violinists showed an astonishing grasp of their instrument and a sound musical approach. They played rhythmically, made good and full use of the bow and were true in intonation. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bates.

Two Telephone Rate Changes

Authorized by

The Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada

Belmont telephone bills dated February 6 will be based on the following two rate changes authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada:

1. General Rate Increase

In 1951 the B.C. Telephone Company applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada for new telephone rates to meet increased costs. The Board granted an interim increase of 10% last July, and recently issued a judgment in the same case, increasing this figure to 13.98%. Telephone exchange rental charges therefore rose about 4%, to the nearest five cents, on January 14.

2. Rate Increase Due to Exchange Being Transferred to a Higher Rate Group

Under a rate plan approved by the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada in 1950, the telephone exchanges are placed in rate groups according to the number of telephones each exchange serves. Each rate group has a different set of rates. The Belmont exchange has now grown to the point where the Board has authorized its transfer to a higher rate group, and the rates of that group will become effective on February 6.

Rates For Belmont

B.C. bulbs are increasing in popularity throughout Canada, J. W. Howroyd told the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island Bulb Growers' Association at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanich, Wednesday.

Howroyd, who was re-elected president, said locally grown bulbs were holding their own against outside competition.

"The bulb industry is expanding," he said. "We should increase the scope of our organization to meet the increasing demands for bulbs grown in B.C."

Other speakers at the meeting were J. Crossley, Dominion Experimental Farm bulb expert; Neville Myers, plant protection, Vancouver, and Norman Seaforth, plant protection for Vancouver Island.

Capt. C. R. Wilson was elected vice-president of the association, and Archie Bain, secretary. Directors elected were Col. R. H. Richardson, J. R. Combs and Capt. Wilson.

If Steamer's Not A Ship Diesels Must Be Dodos!

By MONTE ROBERTS
Times Marine Reporter

Let's have a little argument around here.

Man ups to us the other day, and says "Whaddya mean, MV Aorangi? Whaddya mean, CGV Estevan? What's the idea, calling those ships vessels?"

Roberts

We said we didn't mean any harm, Aorangi was a motor vessel and Estevan a Canadian government vessel, so far as we knew.

Not so, said the man. They are both steamships, and he could prove it, by the Canada Shipping Act, 1934.

You can look it up yourself. Under definitions for the purposes of the act, this is a steamship or steamer:

"Any ship propelled by machinery, and not coming within the definition of a sailing ship."

And if you're wondering what a "ship" is, the act will tell you: "Ship includes every description of vessel used in navigation not propelled by oars."

So, to be technical, in future when we're referring to Harold Sweeney's 26-footer, Saucy Sue, she'll be Ss. Saucy Sue, and when you're talking about your neighbor's 12-foot inboard, please be kind enough to refer to her as Ss. Lazy Daze.

For that matter, is a canoe a ship? It isn't propelled by oars.

The Chilean merchant training ship, Presidente Pinto, will be in B.C. waters around the end of February. She carries 24 officers and 55 trainees . . . will spend a week in Vancouver, may or may not call here.

NOTICES TO MARINERS: The two buoys marking the degaussing range at Royal Roads have been replaced in their charted position . . . a new edition of the chart covering Turn Point to Sand Heads (chart No. 3450) is now available . . . there's also a new chart for Yorke Island and Blenkinsop Bay (No. 3588) . . . fifty cents each from the Hydrographic Service, Belmont Bldg., Victoria.

A day beacon has been established in Stuart Channel . . . it's on the rocky ledge separating Telegraph Harbor from Preedy Harbor . . . a concrete base 15 feet above high water carries a mast with conical slatwork daymark painted white.

CAUTION: . . . a 16 to 18-foot speedboat is reported drifting submerged ½ mile northeast of Willoughby Sound.

ISLAND MAY GET GALE; CITY'S OUTLOOK MILD

Gale warnings are being issued for Queen Charlotte Islands waters and the west coast of Vancouver Island in anticipation of a big storm developing, weatherman William Mackie said today.

A disturbance is centred well west of the Charlottes, he said, which may gather strength later in the day.

Victoria's weather, however, will continue mild, with rain overnight and clouds and showers Friday. Winds are expected to reach southeast at 25 miles per hour by midnight, then decrease to southwest 20 Friday morning.

VICTORIA STEREO STRIKE VOTE SET

Application Granted By Labor Relations Board Unless Agreement Reached Meanwhile

Unless an agreement is reached beforehand, a government-supervised strike vote of 13 stereotypers employed by Victoria Press Ltd. probably will be taken Saturday, Labor Relations Board officials said today.

Application for the strike vote was made by the Stereotypers' and Electrotypers' Union Local 88, I.S. and E.U. (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) after it had rejected a conciliation board award granting them a 32-cents-an-hour increase in wages up to a rate of $2.20 an hour.

The firm had agreed to this settlement, but the stereotypers have claimed a 37-cents-an-hour increase, putting them on a $2.25 per hour rate, the same as Vancouver.

City Banks Will Close Saturdays; Start Feb. 16

Banking Association President Says Firms Will Open Longer On Fridays To Aid Clients

All branches of chartered banks in Victoria will be closed Feb. 16 and each subsequent Saturday, it was announced by L. G. Gillett, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, in a telegram to The Times today.

As a convenience to customers, adds Gillett, particularly those wishing to cash cheques or make deposits, all banks in Victoria will be open extra hours on Fridays. Banking hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 4.30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Gillett stressed the increasing difficulty facing the banks in obtaining and keeping well-trained staff in competition with other industries, especially in the larger centres, where the five-day week is well established.

It never was the intention of the banks to close all Canadian branches simultaneously, adds Mr. Gillett, because the banks recognize their obligations of service to the public in centres where business places generally do not close on Saturday mornings.

SLOWLY, GRADUALLY

Accordingly, in line with previous promises to go slowly and gradually into Saturday closing, the first Canadian centres to be affected will be 14 of the larger cities where all branches of chartered banks will close on Saturday, February 16, and each Saturday thereafter.

The cities where Saturday closing applies from February 16 are: Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Winnipeg, Windsor, London, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa, Hull, Montreal, Quebec, Saint John and Halifax.

It is expected that experience gained with first Saturday closings will enable banks to adjust their substitute services, Victoria bankers stated today. If it is found that customers are not using the new Friday banking hours to any extent, the banks will be free at such offices to revert to the usual banking hours on that day.

YACHT CLUB WANTS MEN OUT OF RUT, INTO HOLE

Officers of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club are anxious to get members in the hole these days.

Especially young, vigorous, healthy and husky members.

To date, a fair number of members have been in the hole, but it is noted with regret that all of these were over the 40-year mark.

The club would like to see the youngsters in it, too.

The "hole" is being dug to take a gas tank for the convenience of members with marine gas engines—and the pleasure sailors are digging it themselves. Secretary A. J. D. Berrington has sent out a cry for help for under-40 members with strong backs to take part of the load.

Berrington will not only supply tools, but refreshments, too, for those who will donate a half-hour's labor.

Plasterers Gain Half Of Wage Boost Sought

Ten Months' Negotiation Finally Settles Pay Rate Few Cents Below Vancouver Level

After 10 months' negotiation, settlement has been reached between Local 450, Operative Plasterers' and Cement Finishers' International Association (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) and the Victoria Master Plasterers' Association.

Final agreement was reached with the aid of government conciliation officer W. T. McLaughlin. Settlement was on company terms.

Under terms of the new work contract, the 25 union men affected will receive $1.90 an hour. The old rate was $1.75.

The union had been seeking $2.10 an hour, the same rate as Vancouver.

Master plasterers, who offered $1.90 some time ago, argued they could not meet the union's demand because there was not sufficient work and because of competition from small, family firms engaged in the same business.

The last contract between the union and association expired last April.

Plastering contractors bound by the agreement are Fred Allen, W. S. Bartlett and Sons, A. R. Frewing and Sons, E. J. Jensen, George Palmer and Sons, S. J. Ross, P. Sherritt and E. Thomas.

Bargains Galore At Rummage Sale In Aid Of Cadets

Bargains galore are promised at the Victoria Air Cadet rummage sale to be held Saturday at the old Colonist Building, Broad Street.

On sale at "give-away" prices will be 1,000 pairs of shoes, 300 coats, radios that work, 500 women's dresses, men's clothing, books, pictures, and many other articles.

Contributions were collected in a one-night drive with the assistance of Victoria Kinsmen Club. Leaflets were left at all homes in districts covered, letting the householder know collectors would be around the following night.

Response was excellent, as thousands left their porch lights glowing as a signal of a contribution.

Youths' Crime Wave Blamed On Parents

Police Chief Reports Petty Offenses Gain In 1951; But Major Law-Breaking Declines

Increased petty crime by youthful lawbreakers in 1951 reflects the lack of control of parents over their children.

This came from Police Chief John Blackstock of Victoria this afternoon in his annual report to the police commission, headed by Mayor Claude L. Harrison.

"I am pleased to report that major crime did not increase during the past year—but unfortunately petty crime has.

"This I attribute to the population increase and transients drifting this way from the mainland," the chief said.

He indicated that the traffic department had a record year as shown in the number of infractions of city by-laws and Motor Vehicle Act regulations. (See story on page 1.)

SO FAR SO GOOD

Magistrate H. C. Hall today pointed out that there is no new rash of crime by the younger generation so far in 1952.

He said that in the New Year the crimes have been attributed to only four youths.

Wednesday afternoon in juvenile court he ordered that the two 'teen-agers who escaped from the Boys' Industrial School last Saturday be returned to that institution. The boys admitted some of last week-end's series of shop-breakings and attempted break-ins.

Members of the police force attended 21,348 reports—calls from the public for protection or complaints. There were a few more the previous year.

During the year there were 16 inquests to inquire into deaths and 108 inquiries. The plain-clothesmen investigated one case of infanticide, two murders, and 10 other cases involving deaths, including 73 due to natural causes.

Parksville To Get New Power Line

Part Of Island Expansion Plans

Construction of a new 60,000-volt transmission line from Nanaimo to Parksville is being planned by B.C. Power Commission.

The project may be completed by fall. It will be constructed along the existing 138,000-volt high line which originates at the John Hart Development at Campbell River and feeds power into Nanaimo, location of the commission's main island substation for stepping down high voltage.

Purpose of the new line is to meet increasing demand from residents of the Parksville area.

Although the line will follow the path of the present high line, separate poles will carry it. And ultimately the line will be extended north from Parksville into Courtenay.

In connection with the new development, a new substation will be built by the commission in Parksville with three transformers to reduce incoming voltage.

Other commission plans include construction of two new substations in the Duncan area and the addition of a second transformer bank at the big Alberni substation.

PROJECT ALREADY UNDERWAY

The commission already has underway a $4,500,000 project to bring John Hart development to its ultimate capacity of 168,000 turbine horsepower and the building of a 138,000-volt transmission line direct from the John Hart plant to Duncan Bay, where a substation is nearing completion, designed to serve the Elks Falls paper mill being built there.

Surveying of line locations is being carried out on Quadra Island, opposite Campbell River, for a $114,856 distribution system which will serve about 175 customers at April Point, Heriot Bay, Quathiaski Cove and Cape Mudge Indian settlement.

Nearing completion south of Courtenay is a 16-mile, 13,000-volt Fanny Bay extention which will serve approximately 125 customers along the Island Highway.

An electric drill and a half-inch drill worth $75 were stolen overnight from a tool shed on property of Atom Lumber Co., Johnson Street Extension, city police were told today.

Have You Got Yours?

Don't forget those 1952 bicycle licenses, says Dr. Ballard's Knee-Hi as Const. Ian Duncan, head of the Kiwanis Club's Junior Safety Patrols, points to new one correctly placed on back of bicycle. New licenses were due Jan. 1 but city police have allowed extra month to obtain them. Licenses can be bought Monday through Friday at public scales office on Fisgard Street, near city police station. ## STRAITH BACK WITH CABINET

Provincial Secretary and Education Minister W. T. Straith reported back to his office at Parliament Buildings today. He had been holidaying in Mexico.

The minister was absent during the Liberal-Conservative cabinet break-up and conferred today with cabinet colleagues on what transpired during that crisis period.

He attends his first cabinet session Friday.

1952 Plates Go On Sale Over Counter

British Columbia cars will be allowed to sport the new, shiny 1952 license plates with the distinctive totem-pole crest starting Friday.

At the same time, the man behind the car license wicket at the Motor Vehicle Branch office on Menzies Street will roll up his blind and begin over-the-counter sales.

The 10,000 sets already issued were distributed on a mail order basis. Most of the orders came from people wanting special numbers. The license office still has reservations on many numbers up to 30,000 which will be issued on request only.

Motorists will have until March 1 to attach the '52 plates to the front and rear of their cars.

The new plates have black numerals on the natural aluminum background.

Plates issued this year will have to do for five years. The Motor Vehicle Branch will issue small tags annually to go over the year figure.

C.P.R. Chief Visits City

W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived in Victoria from Vancouver this afternoon for an informal two-day visit.

He will confer with local officials of C.P.R. and C.P.R.'s coast service, and Friday afternoon at 2.30 will address the Veterans' Association of Canadian Pacific Services.

Mather, who attended the 65th annual meeting of Vancouver Board of Trade Wednesday, will return to the coast Friday evening, leaving for eastern Canada, Saturday.

Harrison Favors Minimum Spending At Point Ellice

Minimum repairs to keep Point Ellice Bridge in condition, until such time as the Provincial Government announces the new Island Highway route out of Victoria, are favored by Mayor Claude Harrison.

Asked today to comment following a public works committee meeting earlier this week which received a report on various alternatives with regard to the bridge, the mayor said:

"I think the bridge should be part of the main island highway and as such a government project, and not a cost to the city. It is the shortest route out of the city and I am sure the most economic."

Reiterating his stand as outlined in his inaugural address, the mayor said he felt the highway route would be settled by the government within two years.

As he pointed out in his first address, he believed the steel from the present Point Ellice Bridge could be used to re-establish the old Rock Bay Bridge, if a new Point Ellice span were built.

City Health Staff Trek Starts Soon

Big trek of city health, welfare and sanitary staffs from their present separate quarters to the city's new health and welfare building on Cook, begins Feb. 12.

Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, said today the nurses and clinic at the Pandora Avenue health centre would move on that date, with welfare staffs following about Feb. 18 and the medical and sanitary departments now at City Hall, moving Feb. 19.

The department hopes to have the official opening and an open house for the public by the end of February or early in March.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Whoop-De-Do! Embroidery Is In Limelight Again!

By PENNY SAVER

A short time ago I told you about a new needlework book that showed you how to do embroidery work as well as offering new patterns.

Well, one of the main stores in town is right in step with the interests of the "embroidery crowd." They have just got a complete stock of little numbers that you can colorfully pattern with your needle.

The articles, already stamped with a design, are of a fine material and in some cases, lace edged.

The selection is wonderful. It really is a treat to walk into a store and see such a fine display. You know, it was only recently that this embroidery business came back into its own. For some time it was not at all profitable for the manufacturer's to keep very much on the market.

They're having a heyday now!

Some Are Colored, Some Are Plain

Included in the wide selection are tablecloths, from $1.29; pillow cases, from 98 pennies; aprons, from $1.09; shoe bag, $1.19; place mats, from 59 cents; pot holders, 30 cents; and kimonas, aprons and bibs for children at reasonable prices.

These articles are in colors or plain white.

★ ★ ★

Remember the indelible lipstick I told you about yesterday. After scrubbing my hand all day and finally creaming it, I got the lipstick off.

You can imagine how it would stay on during your busy day. Eating would hardly damage it and still if you find it absolutely necessary to erase it completely a good creaming will do it, I found out. Thank goodness, I was beginning to think I was marred for life.

By the way, when I was in town seeing about this lipstick the girl showed me a new cologne and perfume that they have just started to carry. It is called "White Shoulders."

Evidently it is very popular in the States, but has not been introduced before in Victoria.

When you see the prices you will realize that this is more for your information than to lead you to an economizer. A two-ounce bottle of cologne is $3.75 and a four-ounce is $6.75.

Something new in this line is a $4 bottle of cologne that is not as strong as the general line. It is accompanied by a plastic finger mit which you are supposed to saturate and splash on yourself. Sounds like fun.

The perfume is priced from $6.75 to $13.50. (If you read that quickly it won't sound so bad).

An interesting point is that the creator is also a collector of ancient lace and each article of her cosmetics is packaged in imitations of her collection.

Cute, eh?

It's a luxury, but my oh my, it's lovely.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You Don't See Your Back; Others Do; Keep It Neat

We are very likely to be like ostriches with our heads in the sand. Just because we cannot see ourselves, rear view, we are likely to consider it unimportant, yet many of our exits are most vital and our escort is often behind us following us down the aisle or through doors or pulling out our chair.

Today let me remind you of a few of the things to watch in order to look attractive from the back as well as from the front.

1. Of course one of the first things we think of is crooked stocking seams. This can make a pretty leg look bowlegged or knock-kneed. Scuffed or runover heels are equally unattractive.

2. Many women look slim through the hips, sideview, but very broad back-view. This is not always a question of build but often of pads of fat which have accumulated. These pads are over the thighs and side upper hips. Exercise can do wonders.

3. The way you walk is more noticeable rear view than front view because when you are meeting a person his attention is diverted by your face and outstretched hand. If you wobble and switch or roll along it looks especially unattractive from the back.

4. Clothes may look well pressed from the front but be quite wrinkled from sitting. This is unavoidable at times but often a skirt needs pressing before another wearing when the whole garment does not.

5. Do not wear a wide belt and push it down on the pads of fat just under the waistline.

6. Naturally the back hairline is important. If your haircut is too rugged or mannish or too wispy; or if hair grows down on your neck, change it.

7. If your neck is short be sure that your collars are cut low enough so they do not meet your hairline. You may find yourself minus a neck, rear view.

8. It is flattering to the rear view if your belt dips at mid back.

Be sure the seams are straight.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SPICED CARROTS

Cut carrots into strips and drop in boiling salted water until almost tender. Drain. Add 4 tablespoons butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon grated nutmeg. Cover and simmer until tender.

And this is a true "Vitamin Salad." Green peppers you know, are extra rich in C, and carrots bow to no one when it comes to A.

Shred carrots and cut peppers in half. Remove seeds and membrane. Toss carrots with French dressing and serve in pepper "boats."

Brother Moose held initiation of candidates during the afternoon, with Victoria 1390 degree staff performing the ritualistic ceremony. The midwinter conference concluded with a banquet.

Victoria Chapter No. 25 held a social meeting recently at the K. of P. Hall with senior regent A. Hopley presiding. Dorothy Rushton was initiated and Flo Benzie, hospital guild, reported several members are on the sick list.

Convening the chapter's 32nd birthday banquet in March will be junior regent, P. Bell.

In preparation for a bazaar in April, sewing bees will be held twice a month, first at the home of Mrs. G. Priddle, 1501 McRae Avenue, Thursday evening. Cook-Cedar Hill bus. Mrs. Priddle also has cook books compiled by Duncan Chapter for sale.

Mrs. C. Giles announced that a dance sponsored jointly by the Chapter and Lodge 1390 will be held on February 22 in the hall. All members will take cookies.

Graduate regent, D. Guelpha will preside over Friendship Session for British Columbia, scheduled to take place in Victoria early in May. A meeting of all friendship members will be held at her home, 2538 Fernwood Road, Feb. 7, to discuss plans.

Mabel Brown, child care and training chairman, convened a social period.

On behalf of members, Mrs. A. Hopley presented a farewell gift to Mrs. R. Rogers, who is leaving Victoria to spend a few months in California prior to making her home in Seattle.

Officers and graduate regents will convene a Valentine tea following the chapter's meeting on February 14.

Many Projects Undertaken In Past Year By Active Hospital Auxiliary

Successful functions during the past year enabled the Woman's Auxiliary to Royal Jubilee Hospital to carry out many beneficial projects, reported Mrs. P. E. Corby, secretary, at their annual meeting in the Nurses' Home yesterday afternoon.

A linen shower realized $205.51; bridge tea, $257.91; tag day, $1.426, and rummage sale, $90.15.

Main projects during the year were the purchase of an Isolette incubator for the maternity ward; a cornea-miscrope, and redecorating the lounge and replacing carpets and drapes in the nurses' home. A number of new beds were also bought, and special nurses for needy patients were provided by the auxiliary. Additional funds were also provided for the formula room and various sundry articles provided for the hospital.

Mrs. F. J. Houghton, treasurer, reported total receipts as $4,364.77, including $1,375.00 donations, and disbusements as $4,305.07.

Mrs. Stanley Okell, in her presidential report, spoke of the successful and busy year.

Others giving reports were Mesdames R. Hallas, P. E. Taylor, I. Patterson, E. Sheppard, W. G. Thorpe and Miss M. Curry.

Mrs. Okell was re-elected president. Other officers are Mrs. J. Phethean, past president; Mrs. W. G. Crawford, first vice-president; Mrs. P. R. Brown, second; Mrs. Corby, secretary, and Mrs. Houghton, treasurer.

Conveners appointed were Mrs. Taylor, dues; Mrs. Hallas, sewing; Mrs. G. Piercy, visiting; Mrs. Patterson, buying; Mrs. J. Hough, telephone, and Mrs. H. Southin, publicity.

Dr. H. H. Murphy, director of Victoria Cancer Clinic, addressed the meeting and made an appeal for a bronchoscope, a new instrument for detecting cancer of the lungs.

The members immediately voted to raise funds by holding a tag day early in the spring. The cost of the bronchoscope is $1,257.

George Master, hospital administrator, also addressed the meeting. He said there was a greater need than ever for the help of the auxiliary.

Other speakers were Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, superintendent of hospital; R. A. Wootton, president of board of directors; Miss Lucy Woodrow, director of nursing; Mrs. V. Edwards, president of Children's Ward Auxiliary, and Mrs. Len Acres, representative of Junior Auxiliary.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

The large white envelopes holding invitations to the two State Dinners, at Government House, and the State Ball to follow opening of the 1952 session of the British Columbia Legislature have all been mailed this week.

Sounds easy when you say it in those few words.

But there has been several weeks' work on the part of the secretarial staff at Government House before the hundreds of invitations could be sent to their destinations.

"Bessie"

Immediately the date of the opening of the Legislature was set, work began at Government House.

Last year's list of invited guests was brought out and checked. Where there had been changes in office, names were erased and others took their places. Every address was checked.

Then, the crisp new envelopes were brought out and addressed—all by hand. Names were written by hand on the invitations, too.

When they were completed, the envelopes were placed in orderly piles on a side table, ready to be mailed, all together, on a date to be decided by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor.

His Honor returned from Hawaii, Tuesday morning, and the invitations were placed in the mail on Tuesday evening.

The Precedence List Is Followed

Style of the invitation never varies. Printed on a heavy white card, there is a gold embossed crest of the province at the top and black lettering for the wording.

Precedence list is followed for the first Dinner and invitations are issued in the following order. To the Premier, archbishops and bishops, other ecclestical dignitaries, the chief justice of British Columbia, the chief justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, federal ministers residing in the province, members of the Privy Council, senators, consuls-general, members of the judiciary, members of the House of Commons residing in the province, members of the provincial cabinet, the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, the Leader of the Opposition, former Lieutenant-Governors of the province, senior officers of the three services, the assistant commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the mayors of Victoria and Vancouver and the aides-de-camp to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor.

First State Dinner on Feb. 19, following opening of the Legislature, will commence at 7.45 and end at 9.30. And it is expected there will be 70 guests present.

Second State Dinner will take place a week later.

The State Ball will commence at 10 o'clock on Feb. 19, and continue until 2 a.m. when "God Save the King" will be played.

Eight hundred invitations have been sent out for the ball, to those who are included on the precedence list and the official list at Government House and to prominent citizens in Victoria, Vancouver, and other points in British Columbia.

Final invitation list for both the State Dinners and the ball, is made up from addressed envelopes. And it is on this list that acceptances and regrets are noted.

It is this list, too, that is held and filed for next year's affairs.

International Lecture Tour Unveiling Hardships And Conditions In Israel

Mrs. Molly Lyons Bar-David, who is on a Canadian and United States lecture tour under the sponsorship of Hadassah, spoke recently in this city.

Mrs. S. Rose, president of Victoria Hadassah Chapter, introduced the speaker as a native of Canada and a well-known writer.

Mrs. Bar-David has been 16 years in Palestine. During that time she has had experience of war and riots and has known the edge of hunger. She and her family have been bombed several times; have had to move repeatedly; and have known hunger, thirst and fear.

Last year every available acre of the country was seeded, and the Israelites hoped for a plentiful crop. But no rain came and the country experienced one of the worst droughts known. In January, the whole land had to be replanted, and long-delayed rain resulted in only a very poor crop.

The speaker pointed out that "consequently rationing is still strict . . . for both food and clothes.

"For instance, a silk or wool dress takes the entire year's supply of coupons; a man's suit requires all the coupons for 18 months. It is expected rationing will be necessary until 1957."

NEED MONEY

Israel makes and exports cars, refrigerators, radios, sweaters, coats and shoes, but the people of Israel do without these things, they are for export and the money they bring is necessary for the country.

Mrs Bar-David said, "In spite of shortages of all kinds, Israel welcomes and gives refuge to all those who need help.

The housing situation is acute, she said. One-tenth of the entire population lives in tents; one-tenth in tin huts; and one-tenth in one-room dwellings.

"Immediate attempts are always made to get the new-comers established in some kind of a home and at some kind of work, so that they are producers and not consumers merely," she said. "Special attention is given to the children."

"For the last three years education has been compulsory and free, and illiterates from 14 to 18 years must attend night school. The national language is Hebrew, with English as a second language, compulsory from grade five. Jerusalem has more book stores than restaurants."

Arabs within the Jewish state are given the same rights as the Jews themselves. "Hope, determination, hard work, the will to succeed, plus the help received from other countries have worked wonders. Tents and tin huts are being replaced by cottages, schools, shops, clinics and synagogues. Irrigation assures crops. Far from being depressed or despondent, the people of Israel see the future as full of promise, and hope for a land of free, happy people," expressed Mrs. Bar-David.

When Mrs. Bar-David returns to her home in Jerusalem, one of her most treasured items will be a whole roasted turkey which a friend in New York is preparing for her.

"My two youngest daughters have never tasted turkey," the former Saskatchewan woman said. "It will be a welcome change in their monotonous diet."

Mr. and Mrs. S. Donkersley entertained in their home at Ganges recently on their 23rd wedding anniversary. Mrs. George Dewhurst made an anniversary cake and assisted the hosts. Pianists for the evening were Mesdames R. Testar, D. L. Goodman and C. Hougen. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bellhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Day, Mr. and Mrs. Dewhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Henn, Mr. and Mrs. Hougen, Mr. and Mrs. Testar, Mr. and Mrs. B. Trelford, Mrs. Beth Petersen, Mr. Nels Degnen and Mr. George Maximuk.

King's Daughters Return Mrs. Bremner

At the annual meeting of Victoria District, International Order of King's Daughters, held Tuesday evening in Business and Professional Women's clubroom, Mrs. William Bremner was re-elected to head the group, for 1952.

Others named to office were: Mrs. M. O'B. Tod, vice-president; Mrs. W. Dunsmore, secretary; Mrs. I. F. Lawrence, treasurer and Miss S. Thorburn, rooms treasurer.

Delegates to Local Council of Women are Mrs. A. M. Perry, Mrs. Bremner, Miss J. G. Roberts and Miss M. Wilmere. Provincial executive will consist of Mrs. Bremner and Mrs. A. McFarlane.

It was reported that 8,022 patrons were served tea, coffee or milk in the lunch room during the 250 days it was open. Total receipts were $1,123.98.

Hawthorne Circle provided milk for needy children; Ready-to-Help, aid to poor families; Ministering Circle, food parcels to Britain and Speedwell, radio-phonograph for Blind Centre.

Fellowship Circle donated work to Welfare Centre and Goodwill Circle made toys for the welfare.

In her presidential report, Mrs. Bremner stated that two members received their 50-year citations. They were Mrs. L. H. Hardie and Miss Bertha Morley. Five of these citations have now been gained by Victorians.

Total membership for the district is now 69.

Family Welfare, Canadian Institute to the Blind, Canadian Red Cross, Victorian Order of Nurses, Christmas Children's Fund, Sunshine Camp, needy families and hospital patients, all received help from the Order which raised $877.78.

Mrs. Bremner announced that after moving the lunch room to Business and Professional Women's new clubroom on Government Street, attendance gradually increased so that now it will not be necessary to close the room for lack of financial support. In closing the president extended thanks to Mrs. W. Russell, Miss S. Thorburn and Mrs. Elizabeth Cliff for their assistance during the past year.

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

Blacky the Crow is canny and wise in the ways of his neighbors. Billy Mink is just as canny. Both have acquired wisdom through experience, the best teacher in all the great world.

Blacky had just seen Billy Mink drive one of his children away from a little piece of meat that seemed to be lying on the snow at the edge of open water in a small brook that for most of its length was frozen over.

Billy had told Blacky what was wrong with that little piece of meat. He said there was a trap hidden there, and that explained everything.

"Have you been down the brook any farther today?" asked Blacky.

"No," replied Billy. "Why?"

"There probably is another trap at the next open water, anyway there is another piece of meat like this at the edge of it," replied Blacky.

Billy Mink made no reply. Smoothly, without a splash, he dived into the water and disappeared. He was swimming down the brook, swimming under the ice. You know Billy Mink is a wonderful swimmer, and he can stay under water longer than you would think possible.

Blacky spread his wings and headed down the little brook flying just above the treetops along the banks. When he came in sight of the next stretch of open water, the little piece of meat was still lying at the edge of it. Before Blacky could get there, the young mink scrambled out on the snow. He saw the bit of meat. He looked hastily this way and that to see if any one was watching. He didn't see Blacky. He moved straight toward that tempting bait. To pick it up he had to step in a certain place. He did. A frightful thing happened. A pair of steel jaws leaped up and out of the light snow that had been sifted over them and snapped together on one of the hind legs of the young mink. He screamed with fright and pain and plunged into the water. Blacky, from over head, could see the water boil as down near the bottom the young mink struggled furiously to get away from this dreadful thing that was holding and hurting him so.

"Caw, caw, caw!" shrieked Blacky. "Caw, caw, caw!"

'South Pacific' Amuses King

LONDON, Jan. 31 (CP).—The King took his family to see "South Pacific" tonight and invited the stars into the Royal box for a quick chat during the intermission.

He liked it.

"I never saw a man enjoy it more," said the Drury Lane Theatre's manager. "He rocked with laughter."

During the intermission the King — who underwent a lung operation last September — told Mary Martin the Royal family had been playing the recorded music of "South Pacific" for three years. His personal favorite is "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy."

It was something of a farewell for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The audience at the Drury Lane Theatre cheered the Royal family as the King led them into the Royal box. Queen Elizabeth wore a gown of sapphire blue. Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret were in white. Elizabeth wore a mink coat and Margaret an ermine jacket.

No Threat Yet Of B.C. Floods From Snowfall

E. H. Tredcroft, comptroller of water rights for B.C., reported today his department is compiling snow reports in preparation for estimating the spring water run-off and the danger of flooding.

The comptroller acknowledged that preliminary reports show heavier than normal depths of snow in most Interior areas, but pointed out this did not necessarily mean there would be flooding.

"Last winter was a bad winter for snow," he observed, "but there was no flooding."

There is no indication yet of the water content in this year's snow. A big water content, draining into rivers during a period of fast thaw, could swell these rivers over their banks.

Above-normal depths of snow have been measured in the Hope-Princeton area with 132 per cent above normal; Yale, 50; Lillooet, 280; South Cariboo, 116; Fernie, 108 and Fort George 187 per cent above normal.

Tredcroft said his department would have its first estimate on the spring run-offs ready by the end of February.

U.S., Britain Critized For Sterling Tardiness

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 31 (Reuters).—The United States and Britain were criticized Wednesday by the United Nations econnmic commission for Europe for failing to take earlier action to deal with the sterling area's economic crisis.

The commission's 1951 economic survey of Europe, published tonight, also implied that the sterling area's dollar shortage will probably get worse before it gets better.

Referring to the drastic fall of gold and dollar reserves in the sterling area and some West European countries, the commission said the present crisis might easily have been foreseen.

"There is little evidence, however," it continued, "that the authorities in either of the two countries principally concerned —the U.S. and Britain—had begun to adjust their thinking and policies to meet these difficulties."

American economic policies in 1951 were contradictory, the commission said.

A growth in gold and dollar reserves in other countries early in 1951 prompted the U.S. to press toward the long-term objective of freeing international trade and payments.

The U.S. then slowed down imports for stockpiling — partly justified on price grounds—and overseas dollar reserves suddenly dwindled. The U.S. resorted to large-scale trading to buy strategic commodities.

Electricity Jolts Nurse Back To Life

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP).—Doctors at Presbyterian Hospital reported that they shocked a student nurse back to normal life with electricity after her heart had quit beating for an hour and 45 minutes.

A jolt of 110 volts was sent directly through her exposed heart after three doctors took turns "milking" it by hand to keep her blood circulating through her body.

The nurse, 21-year-old Darline Timke, discussed her experience with reporters Wednesday at the hospital.

TORQUAY, Eng. (CP)—Special apartments will be built for six "problem families" claimed to have no respect for council property. The apartments will have concrete floors, reinforced doors and a warden to maintain order.

Losses Show Wide Range At New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—An orderly retreat took the stock market down moderately today after an early try at a rally failed.

Losses extended as far as between 2 and 3 points among leaders, and minus signs in the range of 1 to 2 points were frequent. Gains were scattered and small.

Volume stepped up to an estimated 1,900,000 shares.

All major divisions were on the downside today with steels, rails, oils, coppers, chemicals and rubbers prominent in the fall.

Canadian issues were mostly lower. International Nickel and Hiram Walker were both off ⅝, Canadian Pacific lost ⅛, Distillers Seagram was down ¼ and McIntyre dropped 1⅝. Dome Mines remained unchanged.

Montreal Falling

MONTREAL, Jan. 31 (CP).—Stock prices continued to give ground near the close today on the Montreal stock exchange and curb market.

In an extension of yesterday's late downturn, losses of up to two points were prominent throughout the list.

Senior metals, steels and paper took the brunt of the drop. Banks edged upward, but all other industrial groups turned lower.

Aluminium, with a drop of 2¼ points at 118¼, was the widest loser. Consolidated Smelters dropped two points to 198 and Dominion Bridge 1¾ to 79¼. International Paper and Fraser were off one point at 48 and 58 respectively.

Toronto Lower

TORONTO, Jan. 31 (CP) — Western oils continued steadily lower today toward the stock market's close but slightly firmer support checked slipping industrials, golds and base metals.

Trading opened briskly but tapered off as the session progressed. Western oil and base metal speculation dominated exchange dealings while industrial activity was confined to leading issues. Volume for the session was about 2,500,000 shares.

Papers, construction, steels, liquors, refining oils, manufacturing companies, retail stores and miscellaneous issues led industrials downward while utilities and textiles weakened steadily. Western oils posted a wide list of losses. Asher, Calgary and Edmonton, Central-Leduc, Central Explorers, Federated Petroleum, Model Oil, Pacific Petroleum and Selburn traded lower. Calnorth and Scurry countered the trend with penny gains.

Vancouver Losses

VANCOUVER—(Close) — Active trading in oils and mines at Vancouver in today's morning session closed with most down slightly from previous highs. Stocks slipped off around the middle of the session, rallied and then slid back again.

In the oils Calmont, Calnorth were up 5 cents each while losses of from 5 to 10 points were registered by Calvan, Central Leduc, Del Rio, Gas Exploration.

In the mines losses predominated. Cronin Babine, Premier Border, Quatsino and Silver Standard all slipped points.

Industrials stayed firm.

London Weakens

LONDON, Jan. 31 (Reuters).—Small investment buying and some bear covering today created a cheerful tone in domestic stocks.

Prices were firm throughout the industrial section with engineering issues particularly favored. Gains of up to one shilling and six pence were shown with Babcock & Wilcox.

Government funds advanced by 1s 8d to 1s 4d, while small speculative inquiry brought rising prices to oils.

On the other side of the picture international dollar stocks lost ground on small sales and there was some dullness to minings.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31 (CP)—Dominion Government deposits decreased $20,144,000 to $100,094,000 during the week ended Jan. 30, the Bank of Canada reported today in its weekly financial statement.

Chartered bank deposits increased $18,297,000 to $628,442,000, while notes in circulation decreased $12,087,000 to $1,376,615,000.

Small Lumber Men Fight Timber Stand Handouts

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

Another sharp protest has just been voiced by the smaller, lumber operators in British Columbia against the rich forest management licenses granted to the big companies.

Cahill

This perennial dispute looks like the old problem of efficiency versus democracy. The small, independent forest entrepeneurs have a right to operate but it is claimed that, compared with the big firms, their cutting is uneconomical and wasteful. Their only consideration, it is contended, is to harvest the timber as rapidly and cheaply as possible.

The big firms, on the other hand, by the nature of their corporate set-up, are obliged to make adequate provision for restocking and conservation, as well as for the most economical use of raw materials and waste product.

Yet forestry in B.C. has now grown from a collection of many small independents into not more than a half dozen powerful corporations.

BIG MERGERS

In the past two years, for example, the mighty MacMillan and Bloedel timber empires have merged. The Alaska Pine and Abitibi groups have joined to acquire pulp mills. Powell River Company, one of the largest newsprint producers in the world, recently bought out a number of independent lumber and logging companies. Pacific Mills has gone in with Canadian Western Lumber Company to build a newsprint mill.

All these amalgamttions are undoubtedly in the interests of efficiency. But as the big fellows continue their contest for control of the large remaining stands of timber, the smaller operators are being squeezed tighter.

A solution to the problem of the rights of the smaller operators is urgently needed.

Charles L. Gundy, president of Wood Gundy and Co. Ltd., Toronto, was today named a director of the British Columbia Electric Co. Ltd. and B.C. Power Corporation.

Westminster Paper Company executives and guests heard deputy Minister of Trade and Industry E. G. Rowebottom list business growth in B.C., at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel Wednesday.

Company incorporations in B.C. last year amounted to 2,363 firms with an authorized capital of $123,660,600.

"British Columbia now leads all provinces in per capita purchasing power, wealth and income," said Mr. Rowebottom.

Vast pre-war German chemical combine, I. G. Farben, has now emerged as Badische Anilin Und Soda Fabrik, a new firm headed by Germany's leading financier, Herman J. Abs.

Oil research permits have been issued by the B.C. government to: A. D. Beirnes, 49,200 acres at Beatton River; E. I. Bird, N.W. Beatton River, 43,258 acres; M. E. Manning, Milligan Creek, 49,843 acres; D. D. Fraser, Moberly Lake, 19,200 acres; C. H. Schwerdt, five miles west of M.P. 230, Alaska Highway, 30,000 acres.

Today's hand was played last September in Venice during the European round-robin team tournament. The English pair got up to six clubs, by the bidding shown, when they held the North-South cards. In the other room, the French pair bid only five clubs.

It is easy to see that South can make six clubs if he guesses the right way to play the spades. He will make the slam if he leads to the king of spades, in the hope that East has the ace. He will lose the slam if he leads the jack of spades and lets it ride for a finesse.

When the hand was actually played, South gave himself an extra chance by tricky discarding. It was very simple, and it shouldn't have worked, but it did.

West opened the jack of hearts, and dummy won with the queen. South drew two rounds of trumps, took the remaining top hearts and ruffed a heart. Then he got back to dummy with a trump to cash dummy's last heart.

South got two discards on dummy's hearts—not enough to do him any real good. He discarded the eight and ten of spades, keeping the five of spades in his hand, and then led the nine of spades from dummy.

East fell for this elementary stratagem. He thought that South was very short in spades, that perhaps he now held the blank king. So East scrambled to put up the ace of spades, and South no longer had to guess how to play the spades.

By the time the spade play was made, East should have had a complete count on the South hand. It was clear that South had started with exactly six trumps and two hearts. Why hadn't he discarded any diamonds on the hearts? Obviously, South had a singleton diamond, which left room in his hand for four spades.

Hence East should have known that South still had two spades left. He should have ducked when dummy led the nine of spades, thus allowing South to guess. If you let your opponents do their own guessing, they will sometimes do you the favor of guessing wrong!

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

WITH TOMMIE WALTERS

Patriarch of actors in Vancouver, and possibly Canada, is E. V. Young, whose voice is best known to CBC listeners through his Thursday night programs in the "Eventide" series—over CBU at 7.30. He is also heard frequently in CBC plays from the west coast and has taken part in numerous productions by theatrical groups in and around Vancouver. Young was born a great many more years ago than most people would suspect, though he is still a few years short of Winston Churchill. Because of his interpretations of extracts from the heritage of Christian literature over the years, many people assume he is a minister of the church.

* * *

Actually the program was started with the idea of providing inspiration and comfort for those whose loved ones had gone to war, and was continued after the war because the program response indicated a wide appeal. Some time ago a critic wrote, "His perfect English, his mastery of emphasis and timing and his truly golden voice have made E. V. Young's program outstanding and brought comfort and peace to many thousands of listeners." Dalton Baker conducts the "Eventide" chorus with Sydney Kelland heard at the organ.

* * *

Thinking of starting a small business this year? If so, Margaret Zieman, Toronto writer, has a few tips for you on "Cross Section" tonight at 8.30 over CJVI. After talking over the problems of running a small store with people who do, she has written a script about the outlook for such enterprises this year and what sort of training people should acquire before embarking on such a business venture on their own. Next week the program will look into the problems of organizing and directing a small Chamber of Commerce branch, and on Feb. 14 will deal with "The Trouble With Unions."

* * *

CBU will be carrying a special actuality broadcast from England tonight at 5 on the departure for Australia of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

* * *

TONIGHT ALSO . . . "Wayne and Shuster" at 6.30 on CBU. "Hollywood Sound Stage" at 7.30 with Doug Fairbanks Jr. in "13 Rue Madeleine," over KIRO. "Gracie Fields" at 8.30 over CKWX. "Hallmark Playhouse" at 8.30 on KIRO. "British Band Concert" at 9 on CJVI. "Winnipeg Drama" at 9.30 on CBU and "Adventures of P.C. 49" at 11.15 on CBU.

Anscomb Sketches Tory Party's Provincial Policies

GANGES, Jan. 31 (CP)—Progressive Conservative Leader Herbert Anscomb Wednesday sketched out his party's policy on a dozen provincial problems in his first major address since the end of coalition.

There was nothing in his speech to excite an audience of 90 Salt Spring Progressive Conservatives. There were no fireworks over his recent dismissal as provincial finance minister. And there were no brand new planks for a Tory election platform.

Instead, Mr. Anscomb suggested, a Conservative government would extend and complete projects begun by the Coalition and previous administrations.

This is the way he said Conservatives would handle some big issues:

Industrial development: The Tories want to help Labor and Capital work together for greater development of natural resources. Increased population and the influx of new industries are welcome, but they create "tremendous responsibilities and tremendous expense" for the government. The province must have a stable government so it can attract more industries and borrow needed funds in eastern markets.

Top Mat Card

Wrestling promoter Nick Harris has lined Ted Evans and Con Bruno for the main event at the Bay Street Armories Saturday.

When these two came together for the first time last week Bruno caused a bit of a disturbance. After being mussed up by Bruno, Evans was declared unable to continue and thus lost the decision.

For the top half of the double semi-main event Dr. Gallagher will match holds with newcomer Carl Engstrom.

Only Peace Is Through U.N., Thinks Pearkes

NANAIMO, Jan. 31 — Major-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., Progressive Conservative M.P. for Nanaimo, told a gathering here that there was no other solution for peace than through the United Nations, although at the present time that organization is "wallowing" in misunderstanding.

The speaker expressed bitter disappointment that the United Nations Assembly had not heeded the call for peace of the French president at the opening of the assembly which Gen. Pearkes attended.

"As the French president went out the door," said Gen. Pearkes, "the dove of peace went with him."

There was a feeling of mistrust and suspicion evident on the part of the western nations and the Soviet bloc. It was regrettable that the N.A.T.O. discussions on rearmament were going on in Rome at the same time as the peace talks were in progress in France.

Actually, the viewpoints of the western bloc and the Soviet bloc are not too far apart, he said, and he anticipated that much of the current troublesome situation would clarify itself.
